Design Methods and Applications for Distributed Embedded Systems Bernd Kleinjohann, Guang R. Gao, Hermann Kopetz, Lisa Kleinjohann, Achim Rettberg, 2004-07-27 The IFIP TC 10 Working Conference on Distributed and Parallel Embedded Systems DIPES 2004 brings together experts from industry and academia to discuss recent developments in this important and growing field in the splendid city of Toulouse France The ever decreasing price performance ratio of microcontrollers makes it economically attractive to replace more and more conventional mechanical or electronic control systems within many products by embedded real time computer systems An embedded real time computer system is always part of a well specified larger system which we call an intelligent product Although most intelligent products start out as stand alone units many of them are required to interact with other systems at a later stage At present many industries are in the middle of this transition from stand alone products to networked embedded systems This transition requires reflection and architecting The complexity of the evolving distributed artifact can only be controlled if careful planning and principled design methods replace the hoc engineering of the first version of many standalone embedded products
