Feeley, 2022-09-06 Feeley's English Homophone Dictionary is a specialized resource Homophones are a particular feature of spoken and written English words that have the same sound but different meanings and may have different roots and different spellings This dictionary features a brief definition of the word a pronunciation guide identifies parts of speech covers from early modern English to the present provides examples of usage with references to the original word category Clear and correct use of words is fundamental to good communication and Feeley's English Homophone Dictionary is a significant aid to doing so

Reflections on School Integration Mokubung O. Nkomo, Carolyn McKinney, Linda Chisholm, 2004 School integration means among other things that the divisions created by apartheid need to be addressed systematically and systemically Integration is not merely about changing the racial demographics of learner and educator bodies It means schools changing to meet the needs of all children fostering meaningful interaction among learners in the classroom on the playground and in extra mural activities as well as instilling a human rights culture It means constructing curricula texts and pedagogies that are informed by a democratic ethos and it requires teachers school managers and communities that are equipped to promote a democratic school environment In short it is about inclusivity and social cohesion And the issue of integration is as pertinent internationally as it is in South Africa questions of race racism citizenship and diversity are central to school systems throughout the world This book contains the proceedings of a colloquium held in October 2003 attended by leading South African and international researchers to take stock of the status quo in school integration and identify new directions research should be taking to support the process of change

The South African Short Story in English, 1920-2010 Marta Fossati, 2024-09-05 Through detailed close readings alongside investigations into the history of print culture Marta Fossati traces the development of the South African short story in English from the late 1920s to the first decade of the twenty first century She examines a selection of short stories by important Black South African writers Rolfes and Herbert Dhlomo Peter Abrahams Can Themba Alex La Guma Mtutuzeli Matshoba Ahmed Essop and Zo Wicomb with an alertness to the dialogue between ethics and aesthetics performed by these texts This new history of Black short fiction problematises and interrogates the often polarised readings of Black literature in South Africa that can be torn between notions of literariness protest and journalism Due to material constraints short fiction in South Africa circulated first and foremost through local print media which Fossati analyses in detail to show the cross fertilisation between journalism and the short story While rooted in the South African context the short stories considered also hold a translocal dimension allowing us to explore the ethical and aesthetic practice of intertextuality These are writings that complicate the aesthetics ethics binary generic classifications and the categories of the literary and the political Theoretically eclectic in its approach although largely underpinned by a narratological analysis The South African Short Story in English 1920 2010 When Aesthetics Meets Ethics offers a fresh perspective on the South African short story in English spotlighting several hitherto marginalised figures in South African literary studies Emerging Johannesburg Richard Tomlinson, Robert Beauregard, Lindsay Bremmer, Xolela Mangcu, 2014-02-04 Johannesburg is most often compared with Sao Paulo and Los Angeles and sometimes even with Budapest Calcutta and Jerusalem Johannesburg reflects and informs conditions in cities around the world As might be expected from such comparisons South Africa's political transformation has not led to redistribution and inclusive social change in Johannesburg In Emerging Johannesburg the contributors describe the city's transition from a post apartheid city to one with all too familiar issues such as urban suburban divide in the city and its relationship to poverty and socio political power local politics and governance crime and violence and especially for a city located in Southern Africa the devastating impact of AIDS

Dixon,2010-11-15 This book examines how children s bodies are trained in time and space to produce schooled literate individuals Moving from theory to practice examples of real classroom events show how teachers practices direct discipline onto children s bodies Subjectivity, Language and the Postcolonial Hannah Botsis,2017-11-10 In Subjectivity Language and the Postcolonial Hannah Botsis draws on theoretical work that exists at the intersection of critical social psychology sociolinguistics and the political economy of language to examine the relationships between language subjectivity materiality and political context The book foregrounds the ways in which the work of Bourdieu could be read in conjunction with poststructural theorists such as Butler and Derrida to offer a critical understanding of subjectivity language and power in postcolonial contexts This critical engagement with theorists traditionally from outside of psychology allows for a situated approach to understanding the embodied and symbolic possibilities and constraints for the postcolonial subject This exploration opens up how micro politics of power are refracted through ideological categories such as language race and class in post apartheid South Africa Also drawing on the empirical findings of original research undertaken in the South African context on students linguistic biographies the book offers a unique perspective critical social theory is brought to bear on the empirical linguistic biographies of postcolonial subjects offering insight into how power is negotiated in the postcolonial symbolic economy Ideal for advanced undergraduate and postgraduate students on courses including social psychology sociolinguistics sociology politics and education this is an invaluable resource for students and researchers alike

Languages, Identities and Intercultural Communication in South Africa and Beyond Russell H

Kaschula,2021-08-23 African countries and South Africa in particular being multilingual and multicultural societies make for exciting sociolinguistic and applied language analysis in order to tease out the complex relationship between language and identity This book applies sociolinguistic theory as well as critical language awareness and translanguaging with its many facets to various communicative scenarios both on the continent and in South Africa in an accessible and practical way Africa lends itself to such sociolinguistic analysis concerning language identity and intercultural communication This book reflects consciously on the North South debate and the need for us to create our own ways of interpretation emanating from the South and speaking back to the North and on issues that pertain to the South including southern Africa Aspects such as language and power language planning policy and implementation culture prejudice social interaction translanguaging intercultural communication education gender and autoethnography are covered This is a valuable resource for students studying African sociolinguistics language and identity and applied language studies Anyone interested in the relationship between language and society on the African continent would also find the book easily accessible African Immigrant Traders in Inner City Johannesburg Innocent Moyo, 2017-09-14 This book contests the negative portrayal of African immigrants as people who are not valuable members of South African society They are often perceived as a threat to South Africa and its patrimony accused of committing crime taking jobs and competing for resources with South African citizens Unique in its deployment of a deconstructionist theoretical and analytical framework this work argues that this is a simplistic portrayal of a complex reality Innocent Moyo lays bare not only the failings of an exclusivist narrative of belonging but also a complex social reality around migration and immigration politics belonging and exclusion in contemporary South Africa Over seven chapters he introduces new perspectives on the negative portrayal of African immigrants and argues that to sustain a negative view of them as the threatening other ignores complex people place space dynamics For these reasons the analytical empirical and theoretical value of the project is that it broadens the study of migration related contexts in a South African setting Academics students policy makers and activists focusing on the migration and immigration debate will find this book invaluable
