Dedicated non-profit organizations are not, by definition, money-making ventures. However, even though money isn't the object, it is still important for every non-profit to follow certain guidelines concerning the financial management of the organization. The basic accounting system should include the following components: chart of accounts, general ledger, budget, reporting and documentation system, and appropriate internal controls. It is also important to have the ability to properly manage grants, and to be cognizant of funders' individual financial requirements, particularly when receiving government grants.
