Woman in Sacred Song Eva Munson Smith,1888 History's Fiction Xu Xi,2001 From the turbulent sixties through the nineties here is a history of Hong Kong told through fiction by one of the city s leading writers These stories represent the evolution of a voice as she strives to create art out of her birthplace the city that remains my perpetual concern History intrudes into private lives and more in the thirteen tales collected here for the first time The volume includes several new never previously published pieces Improvement Era ,1909 The Improvement Era ,1909 The Letters of T. S. Eliot Volume 7: 1934-1935 T.

S. Eliot, 2017-05-30 T S Eliot's career as a successful stage dramatist gathers pace throughout the fascinating letters of this volume. Following his early experimentation with the dark comedy Sweeney Agonistes 1932, Eliot is invited to write the words of an ambitious scenario sketched out by the producer-director E. Martin Browne, who was to direct all of Eliot's plays for a grand pageant called The Rock 1934. The ensuing applause leads to a commission from the Bishop of Chichester to write a play for the Canterbury Festival, resulting in the quasi-liturgical masterpiece of dramatic writing Murder in the Cathedral 1935. A huge commercial success, it remains in repertoire after eighty years. Even while absorbed in time-consuming theatre work, Eliot remains untiring in promoting the writers on Faber's ever-broadening lists: George Barker, Marianne Moore, and Louis MacNeice among them. In addition, Eliot works hard for the Christian Church; he has espoused in recent years serving on committees for the Church Union and the Church Literature Association, and creating at Faber, but she refuses to comprehend that her husband has chosen to leave her and stalks him across literary society, leading to his place of work at the offices of Faber. Faber's correspondence draws in detail upon Vivien's letters and diaries to provide a picture of her mental state and way of life, and to help the reader to appreciate her thoughts and feelings. Shamanic Elements in the Poetry of Ted Hughes

Ewa Panecka, 2018-04-18 This study on religious experience in modern poetry features innovative and accessible close readings of some of the most beloved authors of English verse. In today's seemingly secular age, religion still remains a highly contested subject. The selection of texts analysed here is representative of a wide spectrum of attitudes, including a sharply critical refusal to acknowledge Christianity as the basis of civilization. Some poets see national religion as a framework for cultural identity, while others worship nature as the omnipotent Force of Life, trying to create their own gods. Rather than reducing poetry to a background for philosophical analysis or theological deliberation, this book presents diverse modes of the poetic endeavor to capture and convey the divine. The chapters provide a range of perspectives on individual experience rendered into poetry as a subtle relationship between faith, perception, and language. The text will be of interest to anyone looking for new ways of reading poetry as a spiritual quest. Records of Woman, and Other Poems Felicia Dorothea Browne Hemans, Mrs. Hemans, 1850

The Opera, History and Guide, 1925 Fall On Your Knees Ann-Marie MacDonald, 2011-01-25 The Piper family is steeped in secrets, lies, and unspoken truths. At the eye of the storm is one secret that threatens to shake their lives, even destroy them. Set on stormy Cape Breton Island off Nova Scotia, Fall on Your Knees is an internationally acclaimed multigenerational saga that chronicles the lives of four unforgettable sisters. Theirs is a world filled with driving ambition, inescapable family bonds, and forbidden love. Compellingly written by turns menacingly dark and hilariously funny, this is an epic tale of five generations of sin, guilt, and redemption. On Femininities in the Song of Songs and Beyond Vita Daphna Arbel, 2022-01-13

Vita Daphna Arbel uses critical theories of gender to offer an alternative reading of the multilayered conceptualization of the Song of Songs' feminine protagonist, the most beautiful woman. Arbel treats the most beautiful woman as a culturally constructed and performed representation of woman and situates this representation within the cultural discursive contexts in which the Song partly emerged She examines the gender norms and cultural ideologies it both reflects and constructs and considers the manner in which this complex representation disrupts rigid ahistorical notions of femininity and how it consequently indirectly characterizes womanhood as dynamic and diverse Finally Arbel examines the reception and impact of these ideas on later conceptualizations of the Song of Songs female protagonist with a heuristic examination of Mark Chagall's Song of Songs painting cycle Le Cantique des Cantiques These compositions selected for their diverse depictions of the Song's protagonist their impact on European art and their vast popularity and bearing in the broader cultural imagination illustrate a fascinating dialogue between the present and the past about the most beautiful woman and about multiple femininities
