Anthamatten,2019-11-26 In the second edition of An Introduction to the Geography of Health Helen Hazen and Peter Anthamatten explore the ways in which geographic ideas and approaches can inform our understanding of health The book s focus on a broad range of physical and social factors that drive health in places and spaces offers students and scholars an important holistic perspective on the study of health in the modern era In this edition the authors have restructured the book to emphasize the theoretical significance of ecological and social approaches to health Spatial methods are now reinforced throughout the book and other qualitative and quantitative methods are discussed in greater depth Data and examples are used extensively to illustrate key points and have been updated throughout including several new extended case studies such as water contamination in Flint Michigan microplastics pollution West Africa s Ebola crisis and the Zika epidemic The book contains more than one hundred figures including new and updated maps data graphics and photos The book is designed to be used as the core text for a health geography course for undergraduate and lower level graduate students and is relevant to students of biology medicine entomology social science urban planning and public health The Distributed Functions of Emergency Management and Homeland Security David A. McEntire,2023-07-19 The Distributed Functions of Emergency Management and Homeland Security outlines the roles and responsibilities of various individuals and agencies involved in homeland security and all aspects of emergency management Each chapter focuses on the practical and applied aspects of a range of public servants in various departments and the organizations that they represent Rather than presenting a theoretical exploration alone the book examines the practical knowledge and hands on skills related to various functions and how their decisions and actions play into the larger framework of safety and security in the public private and nonprofit sectors Every professional has a unique and integral part to play in fulfilling their roles and obligations whether it be in relation to prevention mitigation preparedness response or recovery operations Personnel that frequently come to mind in such scenarios include emergency managers geographers and land use planners EMTs and paramedics fire fighters police officers public health officials nurses public administrators and public information officers And while these individuals are integral to homeland security and emergency management there are other professionals that also perform essential duties that while they aren't first to mind are vital to efforts relating to terrorism and disasters this includes pilots in the aviation sector the military attorneys psychologists and forensic professionals serving in pathology DNA and dentistry roles Chapters provide a holistic rendering of the homeland security and emergency management landscape to present all these various professional capabilities and contributions This includes how current functions are coordinated as well as how future efforts might change relative to a more proactive all hazards and holistic approach As such the book will be a useful resource for students and practitioners to understand the dynamic professions and various disciplines and fields that impact disaster and terrorism preparedness and response capabilities

Resources in Education ,1992-10 Fundamentals of Cartography (Second Revised and Enlarged Edition) R.P. Misra,2014-01-01 The first edition of Fundamentals of Cartography was published in 1969 by Prasara University of Mysore It was reprinted by the Concept Publishing Company New Delhi in While the book remained in currency the cartographic processes changed drastically when information technology brought a sea of change in the sources of information drafting of maps and printing processes Drawing maps by hand became obsolete surveying whether ground or aerial was no longer the only major source of information In view of these changes it became necessary to bring out a new edition Realising that unless one knows directions scales projections coordinates ground and air surveys one would fail to understand the proper use of modern information technology in the drawing the maps Thus the contents of 1969 edition are retained and new chapters have been added to update the book In Part II of the book a chapter on Remote Sensing and Satellite Imagery has been added and Part V contains chapters on Computer Aided Cartography Geographic Information System GIS Land Information System LIS and Global Positioning System GPS
