Section A—Reading Test (Seen passage)

Read the text carefully and answer the questions 1, 2 and 3:—

Nakshi Kantha is a kind of embroidered quilt. The name was taken from the Bengali word, 'naksha' which means artistic pattern. It is a kind of traditional craft and is said to be indigenous to Bangladesh and West Bengal in India. The art has been practised in rural Bengal for centuries. The name 'Nakshi Kantha' became popular after the poet Jasimuddin's poem 'Nakshi Kanthar Math' was published in 1929.

Traditional Kanthas are made for family use. Old or new cloth and thread are used to make these quilts. Mymensingh, Jamalpur, Rajshahi, Faridpur, Bogra and Jessore are most famous for this craft. Now, it is produced commercially. You can find them in many expensive handicraft shops in cities. The quilts are now in great demand because of the colourful patterns and designs embroidered on them.

Unjust Enrichment James Edelman, Elise Bant, 2016-08-25 Unjust enrichment is one of the least understood of the major branches of private law This book builds on the 2006 work by the same authors which examined the developing law of unjust enrichment in Australia The refinement of the authors thinking responding to novel issues and circumstances that have arisen in the maturing case law has required many chapters of the book to be completely rewritten The scope of the book is also much broader It concerns the principles of the law of unjust enrichment in Australia New Zealand England and Canada Major decisions of the highest courts of these jurisdictions in the last decade provide a fertile basis for examining the underlying principles and foundations of this subject. The book uses the leading cases particularly in England and Australia to distil and explain the fundamental principles of this branch of private law. The cases discussed are current as of 1 May 2016 although the most recent could only be included in footnotes.

Individual Differences and Task-Based Language Teaching Shaofeng Li, 2024-06-06 This volume consists of a collection of empirical studies and research syntheses investigating the role of individual difference (ID) variables in task-based language teaching (TBLT), a pedagogical approach that emphasizes the importance of the performance of meaning-oriented tasks in facilitating second language learning. TBLT is subject to learner external as well as learner internal factors, with the former referring to task and context-related factors and the latter to ID factors pertaining to learner traits, dispositions or propensities. To date, the research has focused primarily on learner external factors and there has been insufficient and unsystematic research on individual difference factors. This volume brings centre stage this important but under-researched dimension by means of a comprehensive in-depth examination of the role of key ID factors in TBLT. The volume integrates theory, research and pedagogy by spelling out the mechanism through which IDs influence learning attainment, behaviours and processes, examining evidence for theoretical claims and discussing ways to apply research findings and cater to individual differences in the task-based classroom.

60 Years of the New York Convention Katia Fach Gomez, 2019-03-22 Worldwide interest in the recognition and enforcement of arbitral awards has never been higher and the New York Convention of 1958, currently adhered to by 159 States including the major trading nations, remains the most successful treaty in this area of commercial law. This incomparable book, marking the Convention's 60th anniversary, provides a fully updated analysis of the Convention's application from international, comparative and national perspectives. Drawing on a global conference held in Seville in April 2018 that was actively supported by UNCITRAL, the book's 27 chapters by highly qualified international practitioners and academics from different jurisdictions address the subject with critical eyes well aware of current developments and future challenges in the field of arbitration. Among the issues and topics covered are the following: Multi-tiered dispute resolution clauses; Applicability of the UN Convention on the Use of Electronic Communications in International Contracts; Complexities of enforcing orders determined by software; Enforcement of annulled awards; European Union law and the New York Convention; Enforcing awards against States and State entities; Sovereign immunity as a ground to refuse compliance with investor-State awards; Enforcement against non-signatories; Public policy exception; Arbitrating and enforcing foreign awards in specific countries and regions including China, sub-Saharan Africa and the ASEAN countries. Ample reference is made throughout to leading cases and practice. Familiarity with the intricacies of the New York Convention as the most universally acknowledged framework in which cross-border economic exchanges can flourish is essential for judges, practitioners, legal staff, business people and scholars working with or applying international commercial arbitration anywhere in the world. This book's combination of highly thought-provoking topics and the depth with which they are addressed will prove invaluable to all interested parties
