

TRAINING OVERVIEW

Audience:

All quality control staff (new hires and existing employees).

Delivery:

100% online via the corporate Learning Management System (LMS).

Duration:

Employees will have two weeks to finish the training program and obtain the certification of completion.

TRAINING PROGRAM CONTENT

The program will be divided into the following modules

Module 1

Introduction to quality control

What: A brief overview of the core principles of quality control in manufacturing, including the importance of defect reduction and the impact of poor product quality on the business.

How: A series of three four-minute video lectures, followed by a short quiz

Module 1

Analyzing the root cause

What: Identifying the root cause of defects in the assembly line using techniques like Pareto charts and cause-and-effect analysis

How: Slides with text, images, and animation

Module 2

Detecting defects

What: Best practices and techniques to spot defects at different stages of the assembly line, including sampling and statistical process control (SPC).

How: An interactive timeline to present the information and a short quiz to practice identifying defects

Module 2

Correction and prevention

What: Strategies and techniques for taking corrective action (process improvements, training, equipment maintenance) and preventing future defects (standard operating procedures, error-proofing).

How: A series of five, three-minute video lectures followed by a final assessment

Evaluation:

The training program will include a final assessment (interactive quiz) that all employees must pass with a score of 100% to earn their certificate of completion.

Important notes:

Employees are required to retake this training annually. The L&D team will set this up so employees automatically receive a reminder from the LMS.
