- To achieve best reception spread out emitter cable side of the emitter or locate the emitter at a higher position (the emitter cable side can also be used as antenna).
- If the sound is distorted or too strong, adjust the volume of the signal source (TV set, VCR, player, DVD player, PC, MP3, tablet, etc.). To a lower level, and reception performance may be improved.
- Replace the batteries if you are having the following problems:
 - The emitter indicator becomes dim.
 - The receiver reception is poor.
 - The volume becomes weak and the sound is distorted.
- Note: This equipment can use static and radio waves, energy and can receive a static electric wave, generate a field in the FM radio band, and can be disrupted by external magnetic field, producing static. This equipment generates, uses and can radiate radio frequency energy and, if not shielded and used in accordance with the instructions, may cause harmful interference to radio communications; there is no guarantee that interference will not occur in a particular installation. If you experience these stated harmful interferences to radio or television reception, which can be determined by turning the equipment off and on, the user is encouraged to try to correct the interference by one or more of the following:
 - Reorient or relocate the receiving antenna.
 - Increase the separation between the equipment and receiving antenna.
 - Contact the equipment dealer or retailer for a more detailed basis and to which the receiver is connected.
 - Connect the emitter to an independent laboratory equipment for testing that complies with Part 15 of the FCC rules. Operation is subject to the following two conditions:
 - The device must not cause harmful interference, and
 - The device must accept any interference received, including that which may cause stated operation of the equipment.
- The equipment is not responsible for any radio or TV interference caused by unauthorized modifications to this equipment. Such modifications could void the user authority to operate the equipment.
