A History of Aviation at Brooklands in 100 Objects Nigel Spooner, 2024-06-30. At the dawn of the twentieth century, mankind had not yet achieved powered flight. The main motive power then was provided by steam engines, heavy, dirty and inefficient. If one wanted to travel overseas, one had to travel on them. A journey from London to New York by steam-driven train and ship took more than 6 days. By the time the same century drew to a close, in December 1999, air travel was the normal choice for long journeys. Millions of people every day flew comfortably and safely in pressurised aluminium airliners propelled by simple, clean and efficient gas turbine engines. The same journey from London to New York could be achieved at supersonic speed in less than 6 hours. For much of that century, many of the extraordinary developments that moved aviation from fragile wood and fabric biplanes to supersonic transports were achieved on 330 acres of low-lying former estate farmland in Surrey, England. The estate was called Brooklands. Those marshy acres were transformed from 1907 into the world's first custom-built motor racing circuit, then a rapidly developing aerodrome, and finally one of the country's largest aircraft factories, employing tens of thousands of people. Nearly 19,000 aircraft of many different types were built at Brooklands during nine decades of peace and war. By the 1980s, however, it was being eclipsed by larger manufacturing sites elsewhere with longer runways and better communications links. Its owner, by then called British Aerospace, finally closed the factory in 1989. This book tells the history of those amazing developments through 100 of the key aircraft, engines, places and other objects that can still be seen either in or near Brooklands Museum or in other locations around the country. It also highlights the stories of six designers whose inspiring creativity produced aircraft engines and weapons ranging from Camel to Concorde Fury to Harrier Wellington to Viscount Merlin to Olympus Between them Thomas Sopwith Barnes Wallis Rex Pierson Sydney Camm Stanley Hooker and George Edwards were responsible for much of what was designed built and flown not only at Brooklands but elsewhere too The book is arranged in successive historical episodes but the many links between the objects and the designers should allow readers to follow different paths if they so wish It is not intended as a technical reference but rather to inspire the reader to seek out the objects and discover more about them

Fabricating Plasticity in Aluminum Heather Roberge, 2025-03-05

This book argues for the value of the material prototype as a critical site of design innovation through a series of design and architectural case studies Illustrated by physical objects such as chairs columns and building facades these full scale material investigations reflect their designers deep knowledge of material manufacturing and geometry The projects do not simply express how they are made rather their designers leverage the capacities of metal forming to exert distinctive influence on the object s expression and performance embracing manufacturing processes as instruments of material innovation

Organized in two parts part one presents the material framework informing work by Arad Newson Heatherwick Future Systems Foster OMA Rex Hadid and others Seven metal forming techniques including Press Forming Press Brake Forming Spinning Panel Beating Casting Extruding and Superplastic Forming are presented alongside work implemented with these processes Part two presents original design research Thermoformed aluminum facade systems ask critical questions of The Part Tessellation The Mold Tooling The Seam and the Finish Post Processing illustrating the potential of design inquiry when techniques of material production alter techniques of design Aluminum is redefined inheriting a plasticity which alters the intrinsic qualities of its raw production For students and professionals in the fields of industrial design and architecture this book presents an optimistic role for material in the design process
