Biogeochemistry of Inland Waters Gene E. Likens,2010-05-20 A derivative of the Encyclopedia of Inland Waters Biogeochemistry of Inland Waters examines the transformation flux and cycling of chemical compounds in aquatic and terrestrial ecosystems combining aspects of biology ecology geology and chemistry Because the articles are drawn from an encyclopedia they are easily accessible to interested members of the public such as conservationists and environmental decision makers This derivative text describes biogeochemical cycles of organic and inorganic elements and compounds in freshwater ecosystems Climatological Data ,1979 Critical Perspectives on Suburban Infrastructures Pierre Fillion,Nina M. Pulver,2019-05-06 Most new urban growth takes place in the suburbs consequently infrastructures are in a constant state of playing catch up creating repeated infrastructure crises in these peripheries However the push to address the tensions stemming from this rapid growth also allow the suburbs to be a major source of urban innovation Taking a critical social science perspective to identify political economic social and environmental issues related to suburban infrastructures this book highlights the similarities and differences between suburban infrastructure conditions encountered in the Global North and Global South Adopting an international approach grounded in case studies from three continents this book discusses infrastructure issues within different suburban and societal contexts low density infrastructure rich Global North suburban areas rapidly developing Chinese suburbs and the deeply socially stratified suburbs of poor Global South countries Despite stark differences between types of suburbs there are features common to all suburban areas irrespective of their location and similarities in the infrastructure issues confronting these different categories of suburbs Beyond the Miracle of the Market Robert H. Bates,2005-05-09 As capitalism defeated socialism in Eastern Europe the market displaced the state in the developing world In Beyond the Miracle of the Market first published in 2005 Bates focuses on Kenya a country that continued to grow while others declined in Africa and mounts a prescient critique of the neo classical turn in development economics Attributing Kenya s exceptionalism to its economic institutions this book pioneers the use of new institutionalism in the field of development In doing so however the author accuses the approach of being apolitical

Institutions introduce power into economic life To account for their impact economic analysis must therefore be complemented by political analysis micro economics must be imbedded in political science In making this argument Bates relates Kenya s subsequent economic decline to the change from the Kenyatta to the Moi regime and the subsequent use of the power of economic institutions to redistribute rather than to create wealth Comprehensive Dissertation Index ,1984
