Multiculturalism and Information and Communication Technology Pnina Fichman, Madelyn Sanfilippo, 2022-05-31
Research on multiculturalism and information and communication technology ICT has been important to understanding recent history planning for future large scale initiatives and understanding unrealized expectations for social and technological change This interdisciplinary area of research has examined interactions between ICT and culture at the group and society levels However there is debate within the literature as to the nature of the relationship between culture and technology In this synthesis we suggest that the tensions result from the competing ideologies that drive researchers allowing us to conceptualize the relationship between culture and ICT under three primary models each with its own assumptions 1 Social informatics 2 Social determinism and 3 Technological determinism Social informatics views the relationship to be one of sociotechnical interaction in which culture and ICTs affect each other mutually and iteratively rather than linearly the vast majority of the literature approach the relationships between ICT and culture under the assumptions of social informatics From a socially deterministic perspective ICTs are viewed as the dependent variable in the equation whereas from a technologically deterministic perspective ICTs are an independent variable The issues of multiculturalism and ICTs attracted much scholarly attention and have been explored under a myriad of contexts with substantial literature on global development social and political issues business and public administration as well as education and scholarly collaboration We synthesize here research in the areas of global development social and political issues and business collaboration Finally we conclude by proposing under explored areas for future research directions Automatic

Disambiguation of Author Names in Bibliographic Repositories Anderson A. Ferreira, Marcos André Gonçalves, Alberto H. F. Laender, 2022-06-01 This book deals with a hard problem that is inherent to human language ambiguity In particular we focus on author name ambiguity a type of ambiguity that exists in digital bibliographic repositories which occurs when an author publishes works under distinct names or distinct authors publish works under similar names This problem may be caused by a number of reasons including the lack of standards and common practices and the decentralized generation of bibliographic content As a consequence the quality of the main services of digital bibliographic repositories such as search browsing and recommendation may be severely affected by author name ambiguity The focal point of the book is on automatic methods since manual solutions do not scale to the size of the current repositories or the speed in which they are updated Accordingly we provide an ample view on the problem of automatic disambiguation of author names summarizing the results of more than a decade of research on this topic conducted by our group which were reported in more than a dozen publications that received over 900 citations so far according to Google Scholar We start by discussing its motivational issues Chapter 1 Next we formally define the author name disambiguation task Chapter 2 and use this formalization to provide a brief taxonomically organized overview of the literature on the topic Chapter 3 We then organize summarize and integrate the efforts of our own group on developing solutions for the problem that have historically produced state of the art by the time of their proposals results in terms of the quality of the disambiguation results Thus Chapter 4 covers HHC Heuristic based Clustering an author name disambiguation method that is based on two specific real world assumptions regarding scientific authorship Then Chapter 5 describes SAND Self training Author Name Disambiguator and Chapter 6 presents two incremental author name disambiguation methods namely INDi Incremental Unsupervised Name Disambiguation and INC Incremental Nearest Cluster Finally Chapter 7 provides an overview of recent author name disambiguation methods that address new specific approaches such as graph based representations alternative predefined similarity functions visualization facilities and approaches based on artificial neural networks The chapters are followed by three appendices that cover respectively i a pattern matching function for comparing proper names and used by some of the methods addressed in this book ii a tool for generating synthetic collections of citation records for distinct experimental tasks and iii a number of datasets commonly used to evaluate author name disambiguation methods In summary the book organizes a large body of knowledge and work in the area of author name disambiguation in the last decade hoping to consolidate a solid basis for future developments in the field

The Taxobook Marjorie Hlava, 2022-05-31 This book outlines the basic principles of creation and maintenance of taxonomies and thesauri It also provides step by step instructions for building a taxonomy or thesaurus and discusses the various ways to get started on a taxonomy construction project Often the first step is to get management and budgetary approval so I start this book with a discussion of reasons to embark on the taxonomy journey From there I move on to a discussion of metadata and how taxonomies and metadata are related and then consider how where and why taxonomies are used Information architecture has its cornerstone in taxonomies and metadata While a good discussion of information architecture is beyond the scope of this work I do provide a brief discussion of the interrelationships among taxonomies metadata and information architecture Moving on to the central focus of this book I introduce the basics of taxonomies including a definition of vocabulary control and why it is so important how indexing and tagging relate to taxonomies a few of the types of tagging and a definition and discussion of post and pre coordinate indexing After that I present the concept of a hierarchical structure for vocabularies and discuss the differences among various kinds of controlled vocabularies such as taxonomies thesauri authority files and ontologies Once you have a green light for your project what is the next step Here I present a few options for the first phase of taxonomy construction and then a more detailed discussion of metadata and markup languages I believe that it is important to understand the markup languages SGML and XML specifically and HTML to a lesser extent in relation to information structure and how taxonomies and metadata feed into that structure After that I present the steps required to build a taxonomy from defining the focus collecting and organizing terms analyzing your vocabulary for even coverage over subject areas filling in gaps creating relationships between terms and applying those terms to your content Here I offer a cautionary note don't believe that your taxonomy is done Regular scheduled maintenance is an important critical really component of taxonomy construction projects After you ve worked through the steps in this book you will be ready to move on to integrating your taxonomy into the workflow of your organization This is covered in Book 3 of this series Table of Contents List of Figures Preface Acknowledgments Building a Case for Building a Taxonomy Taxonomy Basics Getting Started Terms The Building Blocks of a Taxonomy Building the Structure of Your Taxonomy Evaluation and Maintenance Standards and Taxonomies Glossary End Notes Author Biography

Incidental Exposure to Online News Borchuluun Yadamsuren,Sanda Erdelez,2022-05-31 Rapid technological changes and availability of news anywhere and at any moment have changed how people seek out news Increasingly consumers no longer take deliberate actions to read the news instead stumbling upon news online While the emergence of serendipitous news discovery online has been recognized in the literature there is a limited understanding about how people experience this behavior Based on the mixed method study that investigated online news reading behavior of residents in a Midwestern U S town we explore how people accidentally discover news when engaged in various online activities Employing the grounded theory approach we define Incidental Exposure to Online News IEON as individual s memorable experiences of chance encounters with interesting useful or surprising news while using the Internet for news browsing or for non news related online activities such as checking email or visiting social networking sites The book presents a conceptual framework of IEON that advances research and an understanding of serendipitous news discovery from people s holistic experiences of news consumption in their everyday lives The proposed IEON Process Model identifies key steps in an IEON experience that could help news reporters and developers of online news platforms create innovative storytelling and design strategies to catch consumers attention during their online activities Finally this book raises important methodological questions for further investigation how should serendipitous news discovery be studied measured and observed and what are the essential elements that differentiate this behavior from other types of online news consumption and information behaviors

Social Media and Library Services Lorri Mon,2022-05-31 The rise of social media technologies has created new ways to seek and share information for millions of users worldwide but also has presented new challenges for libraries in meeting users where they are within social spaces From social networking sites such as Facebook and Google and microblogging platforms such as Twitter and Tumblr to the image and video sites of YouTube Flickr Instagram and to geotagging sites such as Foursquare libraries have responded by establishing footholds within a variety of social media platforms and seeking new ways of engaging with online users in social spaces Libraries are also responding to new social review sites such as Yelp and Tripadvisor awareness sites including StumbleUpon Pinterest Goodreads and Reddit and social question and answer Q A sites such as Yahoo Answers sites which engage social media users in functions similar to traditional library content curation readers advisory information and referral and reference services Establishing a social media presence extends the library s physical manifestation into virtual space and increases the library s visibility reach and impact However beyond simply establishing a social presence for the library a greater challenge is building effective and engaging social media sites that successfully adapt a library's visibility voice and presence to the unique contexts audiences and cultures within diverse social media sites This lecture examines the research and theory on social media and libraries providing an overview of what is known and what is not yet known about libraries and social media Chapter 1 focuses on the social media environments within which libraries are establishing a presence including how social media sites differ from each other yet work together within a social ecosphere Chapter 2 examines how libraries are engaging with users across a variety of social media platforms and the extent to which libraries are involved in using these different social media platforms as well as the activities of libraries in presenting a social self sharing information and interacting with users via social media Chapter 3 explores metrics and measures for assessing the impact of the library's activity in social media sites The book concludes with Chapter 4 on evolving directions for libraries and social media including potential implications of new and emerging technologies for libraries in social spaces Table of Contents Preface The Social Media Environment Libraries and Social Media Assessing Social Media Sites and Services Evolving Directions in Social Libraries Bibliography Author Biography

Digital Libraries Applications Edward A. Fox, Jonathan P. Leidig, 2022-05-31 Digital libraries DLs have evolved since their launch in 1991 into an important type of information system with widespread application This volume advances that trend further by describing new research and development in the DL field that builds upon the 5S Societies Scenarios Spaces Structures Streams framework which is discussed in three other DL volumes in this series While the 5S framework may be used to describe many types of information systems and is likely to have even broader utility and appeal we focus here on digital libraries Drawing upon six Akbar Kozievitch Leidig Li Murthy Park completed and two Chen Fouh in process dissertations as well as the efforts of collaborating researchers and scores of related publications presentations tutorials and reports this book demonstrates the applicability of 5S in five digital library application areas that also have importance in the context of the WWW Web 2.0 and innovative information systems By integrating surveys of the state of the art new research connections with formalization case studies and exercises projects this book can serve as a textbook for those interested in computing information and or library science Chapter 1 focuses on images explaining how they connect with information retrieval in the context of CBIR systems Chapter 2 gives two case studies of DLs used in education which is one of the most common applications of digital libraries Chapter 3 covers social networks which are at the heart of work on Web 2.0 explaining the construction and use of deduced graphs that can enhance retrieval and recommendation Chapter 4 demonstrates the value of DLs in eScience focusing in particular on cyber infrastructure for simulation Chapter 5 surveys geospatial information in DLs with a case study on geocoding Given this rich content we trust that any interested in digital libraries or in related systems will find this volume to be motivating intellectually satisfying and useful We hope it will help move digital libraries forward into a science as well as a practice We hope it will help build community that will address the needs of the next generation of DLs Learning from Multiple Social Networks Liqiang Nie,Xuemeng Song,Tat-Seng Chua,2022-05-31 With the proliferation of social network services more and more social users such as individuals and organizations are simultaneously involved in multiple social networks for various purposes In fact multiple social networks characterize the same social users from different perspectives and their contexts are usually consistent or complementary rather than independent Hence as compared to using information from a single social network appropriate aggregation of multiple social networks offers us a better way to comprehensively understand the given social users Learning across multiple social networks brings opportunities to new services and applications as well as new insights on user online behaviors yet it raises tough challenges 1 How can we map different social network accounts to the same social users 2 How can we complete the item wise and block wise missing data 3 How can we leverage the relatedness among sources to strengthen the learning performance And 4 How can we jointly model the dual heterogeneities multiple tasks exist for the given application and each task has various features from multiple sources These questions have been largely unexplored to date We noticed this timely opportunity and in this book we present some state of the art theories and novel practical applications on aggregation of multiple social networks In particular we first introduce multi source dataset construction We then introduce how to effectively and efficiently complete the item wise and block wise missing data which are caused by the inactive social users in some social networks We next detail the proposed multi source mono task learning model and its application in volunteerism tendency prediction As a counterpart we also present a mono source multi task learning model and apply it to user interest inference We seamlessly unify these models with the so called multi source multi task learning and demonstrate several application scenarios such as occupation prediction Finally we conclude the book and figure out the future research directions in multiple social network learning including the privacy issues and source complementarity modeling This is preliminary research on learning from multiple social networks and we hope it can inspire more active researchers to work on this exciting area If we have seen further it is by standing on the shoulders of giants Measuring User Engagement Mounia Lalmas,Heather O'Brien,Elad Yom-Tov,2022-05-31 User engagement refers to the quality of the user experience that emphasizes the positive aspects of interacting with an online application and in particular the desire to use that application longer and repeatedly User engagement is a key concept in the design of online applications whether for desktop tablet or mobile motivated by the observation that successful applications are not just used but are engaged with Users invest time attention and emotion in their use of technology and seek to satisfy pragmatic and hedonic needs Measurement is critical for evaluating whether online applications are able to successfully engage users and may inform the design of and use of applications User engagement is a multifaceted complex phenomenon this gives rise to a number of potential measurement approaches Common ways to evaluate user engagement include using self report measures e g questionnaires observational methods e g facial expression analysis speech analysis neuro physiological signal processing methods e g respiratory and cardiovascular accelerations and decelerations muscle spasms and web analytics e g number of site visits click depth These methods represent various trade offs in terms of the setting laboratory versus in the wild object of measurement user behaviour affect or cognition and scale of data collected For instance small scale user studies are deep and rich but limited in terms of generalizability whereas large scale web analytic studies are powerful but negate users motivation and context The focus of this book is how user engagement is currently being measured and various considerations for its measurement Our goal is to leave readers with an appreciation of the various ways in which to measure user engagement and their associated strengths and weaknesses We emphasize the multifaceted nature of user engagement and the unique contextual constraints that come to bear upon attempts to measure engagement in different settings and across different user groups and web domains At the same time this book advocates for the development of good measures and good measurement practices that will advance the study of user engagement and improve our understanding of this construct which has become so vital in our wired world

Digital Library Technologies Edward A. Fox, Ricardo da Silva Torres, 2022-06-01 Digital libraries DLs have introduced new technologies as well as leveraging enhancing and integrating related technologies since the early 1990s These efforts have been enriched through a formal approach e g the 5S Societies Scenarios Spaces Structures Streams framework which is discussed in two earlier volumes in this series This volume should help advance work not only in DLs but also in the WWW and other information systems Drawing upon four Kozievitch Murthy Park Yang completed and three Elsherbiny Farag Srinivasan in process dissertations as well as the efforts of collaborating researchers and scores of related publications presentations tutorials and reports this book should advance the DL field with regard to at least six key technologies By integrating surveys of the state of the art new research connections with formalization case studies and exercises projects this book can serve as a computing or information science textbook It can support studies in cyber security document management hypertext hypermedia IR knowledge management LIS multimedia and machine learning Chapter 1 with a case study on fingerprint collections focuses on complex composite compound objects connecting DL and related work on buckets DCC and OAI ORE Chapter 2 discussing annotations as in hypertext hypermedia emphasizes parts of documents including images as well as text managing superimposed information The SuperIDR system and prototype efforts with Flickr should motivate further development and standardization related to annotation which would benefit all DL and WWW users Chapter 3 on ontologies explains how they help with browsing query expansion focused crawling and classification This chapter connects DLs with the Semantic Web and uses CTRnet as an example Chapter 4 on hierarchical classification leverages LIS theory as well as machine learning and is important for DLs as well as the WWW Chapter 5 on extraction from text covers document segmentation as well as how to construct a database from heterogeneous collections of references from ETDs i e converting strings to canonical forms Chapter 6 surveys the security approaches used in information systems and explains how those approaches can apply to digital libraries which are not fully open Given this rich content those interested in DLs will be able to find solutions to key problems using the right technologies and methods We hope this book will help show how formal approaches can enhance the development of suitable technologies and how they can be better integrated with DLs and other information systems

Click Models for Web Search Aleksandr Chuklin,Ilya Markov,Maarten de Rijke,2022-05-31

With the rapid growth of web search in recent years the problem of modeling its users has started to attract more and more attention of the information retrieval community This has several motivations By building a model of user behavior we are essentially developing a better understanding of a user which ultimately helps us to deliver a better search experience A model of user behavior can also be used as a predictive device for non observed items such as document relevance which makes it useful for improving search result ranking Finally in many situations experimenting with real users is just infeasible and hence user simulations based on accurate models play an essential role in understanding the implications of algorithmic changes to search engine results or presentation changes to the search engine result page In this survey we summarize advances in modeling user click behavior on a web search engine result page We present simple click models as well as more complex models aimed at capturing non trivial user behavior patterns on modern search engine result pages We discuss how these models compare to each other what challenges they have and what ways there are to address these challenges We also study the problem of evaluating click models and discuss the main applications of click models
