Information Systems      Information System Development Process N. Prakash,C. Rolland,B. Pernici,2014-06-28 This volume aims to pave the way to a greater understanding of the information system development process Traditionally information systems have been perceived as a slice of real world history This has led to a strong emphasis on the development of conceptual models the requirements specifications of which can readily be expressed However the route to such an expression or the process of development has not received any substantial attention It is now agreed that a study of the development process affords notable benefits Firstly it helps to create an understanding of what a realistic development process is and how it proceeds from an initial specification to its acceptable representation Secondly the nature of guidance that can be provided by the next generation of CASE tools can be substantially improved It can be expected that these tools will cease to be mere drafting aids and consistency checking programs Instead it is likely that they will provide a procreative environment in which the development engineer will play an important role This tool user symbiosis should have a beneficial impact on both the productivity of the developer and on the quality of the product In bringing together researchers and practitioners from such diverse areas as AI Software Engineering Decision Support and Information Systems it is hoped this publication will take the quest to comprehend information system development processes a significant step forwards      An

McGoldrick, 2013-11-21 EN Corlett Joint Chairman COPED University of Nottingham Nottingham UK The contributions offered to this Third National Conference demonstrate that research in production is very much alive The considerable numbers of papers on robotics automation and flexible manufacturing systems together with those in production control and quality matters demonstrate that there is much work going on in our colleges polytechnics and universities related to modern methods of manufacture The future of manufacture undoubtedly hinges on better control Control over the supply and movement of materials is now keenly sought Control over manufacturing equipment is also a goal not just to maintain quality but to give flexibility in sequence and quantity None of these objectives for improved performance is entirely a technical matter although there is an increasing technical ability to influence all of them To achieve their potential they depend on competent people at all levels Discussion with alert managers soon reveals that this is one of their major concerns Either the people they have require more training or they cannot hire the people with the abilities they need This applies at all levels and the availability of people with competence in manufacture is particularly low      Tools for Project Management, Workshops and Consulting Nicolai
