Learning to Teach ICT in the Secondary School Steve Kennewell, John Parkinson, Howard Tanner, 2003-08-27 This book is designed specifically for students training to teach ICT as a curriculum subject at secondary level It develops the key ideas of teaching and learning ICT in a structured accessible way and provides a wealth of ideas and inspiration for the learning teacher Key areas covered are the place and nature of ICT as a curriculum subject analyzing and developing subject knowledge planning schemes of work individual lessons activities and resources monitoring assessment and exams ICT across the curriculum differentiation and special educational needs professional development Throughout the book there are useful tasks and activities to help student teachers analyze their own teaching and explore the knowledge and skills needed to become a successful teacher of ICT Rooted in best practice and up to the minute research this book is also the ideal refresher for more experienced ICT teachers Secondary Curriculum Transformed Meena Kumari Wood, Nick Haddon.2020-12-06 More than ever secondary curriculum requires greater flexibility and adaptability so young people learn the relevant knowledge and key skills they need for the evolving world of training and employment This practical guide both radical and progressive makes a compelling argument for a secondary curriculum that addresses the needs and aspirations of all students A balanced approach will help reform students attitudes and behaviours and re ignite their curiosity and motivation for learning Secondary Curriculum Transformed proposes an ambitious GCSE five year journey inclusive of academic creative and technical subjects including T Levels and mandatory key skills To equip young people with this critical knowledge and key skills the book transforms the 11 19 curriculum so it does not disadvantage marginalise or exclude young people showcases excellent practice case studies from British and international contexts provides curriculum models which schools can adapt to their own context signposts educational research and listens to the student voice transforming them into leaders of their learning Offering a comprehensive model for leaders and teachers to put the evidence into practice this is essential reading for all education professionals There are also additional templates PowerPoints useful links and other resources which can be downloaded from www routledge com 9780367900878 Offering a comprehensive model for leaders and teachers to put the evidence into practice this is essential reading for all education professionals Educational Pamphlets ,1912 High Points in the Work of the High Schools of New York City ,1921 History Education 101 Wilson J. Warren, D. Antonio Cantu, 2008-01-01 Historians and teacher educators nationwide are now engaged in discussions about the importance of history teacher preparation Interest within the history profession about the teaching of K 12 history has increased significantly during the past two decades particularly since the controversy over the National Standards for History s publication This attention is evident not only in the historical professions various publications but also in the federal government's multi million dollar Teaching American History Program and the No Child Left Behind Act Professional historians are increasingly committed to improving the teaching of history at the K 12 level through many forms of collaboration History Education 101 s thirteen essays are organized into three sections context practice and new directions The essays contributors tenured faculty who teach history teaching methods courses in colleges and universities throughout the United States focus on how history education has is and will be taught to new K 12 teachers throughout the United States Perhaps more than ever it is critical for Americans to understand the role of higher education in the preparation of future middle and high school history teachers This book provides important insights for academics in history and education departments as well as other individuals who are concerned with the status and improvement of history teaching in the schools particularly current and future elementary and secondary teachers and administrators Curriculum Practice Martyn Hammersley, Andy Hargreaves, 2012-05-04 When first published this book was one of the first collections of empirical research in the area of the knowledge transmitted in schools and the responses of students to it It includes studies of the histories of particular school subjects and of how the knowledge they embody is presented in the classroom Attention is also given to the effects of gender stereotypes among teachers and pupils both on pupils selection of courses to study and on their reactions to particular subjects in the classroom The other major topic in this collection is the way external examinations shape the nature of the school curriculum and how it is taught There are studies of how pupils and teachers adapt to the exam system and of how that system and its role in the accountability of schools have changed in recent years The articles collected here throw into relief important aspects of what is taught in schools and they do this on the basis of a solid foundation of empirical research Bulletin United States.
