Till Death Do Us Part Allan Amanik, Kami Fletcher, 2020-03-18 Contributions by Allan Amanik Kelly B Arehart Sue Fawn Chung Kami Fletcher Rosina Hassoun James S Pula Jeffrey E Smith and Martina Will de Chaparro Till Death Do Us Part American Ethnic Cemeteries as Borders Uncrossed explores the tendency among most Americans to separate their dead along communal lines rooted in race faith ethnicity or social standing and asks what a deeper exploration of that phenomenon can tell us about American history more broadly Comparative in scope and regionally diverse chapters look to immigrants communities of color the colonized the enslaved rich and poor and religious minorities as they buried kith and kin in locales spanning the Northeast to the Spanish American Southwest Whether African Americans Muslim or Christian Arabs Indians mestizos Chinese Jews Poles Catholics Protestants or various whites of European descent one thing that united these Americans was a drive to keep their dead apart At times they did so for internal preference At others it was a function of external prejudice Invisible and institutional borders built around and into ethnic cemeteries also tell a powerful story of the ways in which Americans have negotiated race culture class national origin and religious difference in the United States during its formative centuries

The Roots of Educational Inequality Erika M. Kitzmiller, 2021-12-03 Through a fresh longitudinal analysis that investigates daily events rather than focusing solely on key turning points this study challenges conventional declension narratives that suggest that American high schools have moved steadily from pillars of success to institutions of failures Instead this work demonstrates that educational inequality has been embedded in our nation's urban high schools since their founding This book argues that public schools have never been funded adequately and instead that so called success of public schools is often tied to an influx of private funding and resources from families and communities that subsidizes inadequate public aid
