Geman Field Phone Manual:

The D-Day Training Pocket Manual, 1944 Chris McNab, 2019-08-14 Using excerpts from contemporary training manuals this pocket manual is an insight into the preparation of the troops involved in Operation Overlord The success of the D Day landings on June 6 1944 depended on thousands of troops carrying out their mission and the seamless coordination of the amphibious landings with paratrooper and glider assaults The troops not only had to be trained up ready for their own roles but to work alongside other troops often coordinating activities and communicating with other troops while in unfamiliar terrain and under fire This pocket manual brings together excerpts from Allied manuals used in the preparation for D Day including amphibious landings and managing beachheads pathfinder paratrooper and glider pilot training and infantry and armored fighting in the bocage countryside Chris McNab is a prolific writer who knows what he is doing as this book shows and this volume will fit well with its stable mates War History Online The Quartermaster Corps William F. Youngblood, 2006-06-30 In 1997 the International Campaign to Ban Landmines ICBL coordinated the Convention on the Prohibition of the Use Stockpiling Production and Transfer of Anti Personnel Mines and on their Destruction As of mid 2005 145 states had signed the agreement The ICBL s efforts were in large part a response to the careless use of landmines in the previous fifty years The history of mine use in warfare however goes back much further than the World Wars of the 20th century and includes both land and sea use This first comprehensive study traces the technical tactical and ethical developments of mine warfare from ancient times to the present Beginning with mine warfare s roots in ancient Assyria and China Youngblood takes the reader through the centuries of debate about how these hidden weapons should be used A look at 19th century developments explores the intertwined development of land and sea mines and the inventors behind them including Robert Fulton Samuel Colt and Immanuel Nobel father of Alfred Nobel Subsequent chapters examine the use of mines in the American Civil War the Russo Japanese War both World Wars and the battlefields of the Cold War and chart key battles and technical innovations such as the development of air delivered munitions Finally the author addresses the ethical concerns raised by the careless mining namely the impact on civilians and the difficulties of de mining and the treaties that regulate landmine use Journal of the Royal United Service Institution Royal United Services Institute for Defence Studies, 1907 Hell in the Trenches Paolo Morisi, 2018-11-02 The Austro Hungarian Stormtroopers and the Italian Arditi of World War I were elite special forces charged with carrying out bold raids and daring attacks These units were comprised of hand picked soldiers that possessed above average courage physical prowess as well as specific combat skills Many military historians have argued that the First World War was mainly a static conflict of positional attrition but these shock troops were responsible for developing breakthrough tactics of both fire and movement that marked a significant change to the status quo Both armies used special assault detachments to capture prisoners conduct raids behind enemy lines and attack in depth in order to prepare the way for a broad infantry breakthrough This account traces the development of Austrian and Italian assault troop tactics in the context of trench warfare waged in the mountainous front of the Alps and the rocky hills of the Carso plateau It not only examines their innovative tactics but also their adoption of vastly improved new weapons such as light machine guns super heavy artillery flamethrowers hand grenades daggers steel clubs and poison gas This book offers a narrative of the organizational development of the shock and assault troops of their military operations and their combat methods The bulk of the chapters are devoted to a historical reconstruction of the assault detachments combat missions between 1917-18 by utilizing previously unreleased archival sources such as Italian and Austrian war diaries official manuals divisional and High Command reports and the soldiers own recollections of the war Finally it offers a comprehensive description of their uniforms equipment and weapons along with a large number of illustrations maps and period photographs rarely seen This epic trial of military strength of these special stormtroops cannot be properly understood without visiting and walking the battlefields The appendix thus offers the reader a series of walks to visits key high mountain fortifications in the Italian Dolomites many of which have attained almost legendary status

The Soviet Partisan Movement, 1941-1944 Leonid D. Grenkevich, 2013-01-11 Partisans and terrorists have dominated military history during the second half of the 20th century Leonid Grenkevich offers an account of the shadowy partisan struggle that accompanied the Soviet Union's Great Patriotic War 1941-1945 Army History, 1999 Journal of the United Service Institution of India United Service Institution of India, 1894 Operational Principles: The Operational Art Of Erwin Rommel And Bernard Montgomery Major T.L. McMahon, 2014-08-15 This study focuses on the operational level of war that level which links tactics to strategy The study seeks to identify and define principles applicable to the operational level of war If valid those principles ought to guide and or govern the conduct of war at the operational level Also understanding of operational principles and the theoretical foundations of the operational level of war can assist US Army commanders and staff officers in preparation for and conduct of war at that level Selected campaigns and battles conducted by Erwin Rommel and Bernard Montgomery during World War II are analyzed The objective of the analyses is to determine what each commander considered as guides in making battlefield decisions The research is not limited however to specific campaigns and battles A description of each commander is offered that is his experiences and the evolution of his military thought The prevailing German and British military doctrines are also reviewed Interestingly the criteria each commander used in making battlefield decisions his operational principles are apparent by understanding the man and the doctrine the campaign and battle analyses serve to substantiate those principles While Rommel and Montgomery represented different styles of war fighting maneuver and attrition respectively they demonstrated a remarkable commonality in battlefield decision making Apparently the operational level of war can accommodate a broad range of war fighting styles and instruments The implications for the US Army derived from this study cover a wide range of subjects Some involve organization training and preparation of operational level commanders and staff officers Most important is the development of an army which can successfully fight the campaigns and battles in future war Report of the Public Schools ... Missouri. Department of Education, 1910 Report of the Public Schools of the State of Missouri Missouri. Department of Education, 1910 World War II Infantry Tactics Stephen Bull, 2021-05-27 Despite all technological advances final mastery of any battlefield depends upon the tight knit group of footsoldiers trained to manoeuvre shoot and dig in This first of a two part study examines the methods by which the Western infantry of World War II the German British and US armies actually brought their firepower to bear Drawing upon period training manuals for the evolving theory and on personal memoirs for the individual practice this first book covers the organization and tactics of the squad of ten or a dozen men and the platoon of three or four squads The text is illustrated with contemporary photographs and diagrams and with colour plates bringing to life the movement of soldiers on the battlefield An Officer's Manual of the Western Front Stephen Bull, 2019-06-27 A compelling insight into the lives of the soldiers behind the war that not only changed the direction of world affairs but also brought with it a modernised mechanised style of warfare Many people have the idea that the Great War on the Western Front was simple if ghastly to fight with few tactics and unbroken monotonous trench lines as the main feature of the battlefield In such a scenario the archetypal image of battle is of soldiers with rifles and bayonets charging each other in blind obedience to stupid repetitious orders Though undeniably bloody the war was in fact a ferment of new ideas and new weapons Gas flame throwers super heavy artillery concrete bunkers tanks aircraft and other innovations were all introduced whilst older notions such as barbed wire machine guns and armour took on a new lease of life No single manual was ever enough to encompass modern war and even before 1914 numerous publications were required With the focus on the Western Front and the soldiers fighting there this unique compendium collects together a huge variety of contemporary manuals leaflets and booklets and shows how although operations often failed British commanders made attempts to devise new tactics and weaponry
