10. Challenges to Development II: From Women-in-Development to Gender Mainstreaming Naila Kabeer

One of the earliest expressions of dissent with modernization and “trickle down” approaches to development came from feminist constituencies. Some argued that the assumed benefits of development were unevenly distributed between men and women and that development could exacerbate the gender gap in access to resources. Starting from a plea in the 1970s to “include” women in development, the field has moved on to acknowledging gender as one of the central axes of power differentials in society. Gender analysis in development planning and gender “mainstreaming” in institutional design are now an accepted part of the development lexicon.
