Negative Monetary Policy Rates and Portfolio Rebalancing: Evidence from Credit Register Data Margherita Bottero, Ms. Camelia Minoiu, José-Luis Peydro, Andrea Polo, Mr. Andrea F. Presbitero, Enrico Sette, 2019-02-28 We study negative interest rate policy NIRP exploiting ECB's NIRP introduction and administrative data from Italy severely hit by the Eurozone crisis. NIRP has expansionary effects on credit supply and hence the real economy through a portfolio rebalancing channel. NIRP affects banks with higher ex ante net short term interbank positions or more broadly more liquid balance sheets not with higher retail deposits. NIRP affected banks rebalance their portfolios from liquid assets to credit especially to riskier and smaller firms and cut loan rates inducing sizable real effects. By shifting the entire yield curve downwards NIRP differs from rate cuts just above the ZLB.

Promoting Information in the Marketplace for Financial Services Paul Latimer, Philipp Maume, 2014-11-14 This book provides a unique comparative and global analysis of the regulation of disclosure in financial securities markets. It is written by two authors who represent both the new world (Australia) and the old world (Germany). The authors present their research in the global business context with legal and regulatory perspectives, including some references from Africa, Asia, the Middle East, and South America. After every boom and bust, legislators pass new disclosure legislation often in a heated environment fuelled by politics and the media. Little regard is paid to existing regulation or the lessons learned from earlier regulation. The result is the continuing enactment of redundant and overlapping disclosure laws. Since financial markets are often described as markets for information, the failure to ensure disclosure is at the heart of financial services regulation. This book argues that the solution to the failure of disclosure is a brief easily understood principles based plain English safety net amendment to statute law such as you must keep the financial market fully informed a measure that would support effective mandatory continuous disclosure of information to financial markets This book examines the reasons for disclosure regulation and how the efficient operation of financial markets is dependent on disclosure It examines the adequacy of common law and civil law concerning broker client disclosure and concludes that industry licensing in itself fails to keep the market informed While recognizing the failures of securities commissions to achieve good disclosure in financial markets it confirms the effectiveness of coregulation of disclosure by a commission with the support of the financial markets such as the stock exchange Coregulation builds on financial market self regulation and is best described in the words of one time SEC Chairman William O Douglas who in the 1930s described it as a shotgun behind the door
