European Integration and Transformation in the Western Balkans Arolda Elbasani, 2013-09-02 The book investigates the scope and limitations of the transformative power of EU enlargement in the Western Balkans The extension of EU enlargement policy to the region has generated high expectations that enlargement will regulate democratic institution building and foster reform much as it did in Central and Eastern Europe However there is very little research on whether and how unfavourable domestic conditions might mitigate the transformative power of the EU This volume investigates the role of domestic factors identifying stateness as the missing link between the assumed transformative power of the EU and the actual capacity to adopt EU rules across the region Including chapters on Croatia Serbia Macedonia Albania Kosovo and Bosnia Herzegovina leading scholars in the field offer up to date comparative analysis of key areas of institutional and policy reform including state bureaucracy rule of law electoral management environmental governance cooperation with the International Court of Justice economic liberalization and foreign policy Looking to the future and the implications for policy change European Integration and Transformation in the Western Balkans provides a new theoretical and empirical focus on this little understood area The book will be of interest to scholars and students of EU politics comparative democratisation post communist transitions and Balkan area studies

The International Dimension of EU Competition Law and Policy Anestis S. Papadopoulos, 2010-10-28 Modern competition law was first employed by countries over one hundred years ago in order to address issues relating to restrictions of trade at the national level Recent international economic integration has weakened the distinction between the domestic and the international in several fields of economic activity and consequently the laws which regulate such activity competition law included Several attempts to address the paradox of adopting national competition rules to address international issues have been made at the international regional and lately bilateral levels This book discusses the international dimension of EU competition law and examines the position taken by the EU in four distinct categories of international agreements which are

Trafficking and Human Rights Leslie

Holmes,2010-01-01 Human trafficking is widely considered to be the fastest growing branch of trafficking As this important book reveals it has moved rapidly up the agenda of states and international organisations since the early 1990s not only because of this growth but also as its implications for security and human rights have become clearer This fascinating study by international experts provides original research findings on human trafficking with particular reference to Europe South East Asia and Australia A major focus is on why and how many states and organisations act in ways that undermine trafficked victims rights as part of quadruple victimisation It compares and contrasts policies and suggests which seem to work best and why The contributors also advocate radical new approaches that most states and other formal organisations appear loath to introduce for reasons that are explored in this unique book
