State makes budget cuts

Bridget Gonzalez
Editor in Chief

State budget cuts mean the science department at Polaski High School may have to eliminate all hands-on labs in the second semester of the school year.

The Polaski Independent School District lost $2 million in state funding this school year, and supplies for the labs have increased in cost.

The science department is considering replacing most labs with computer simulations, or with labs in which the instructors will perform the experiments themselves. Department chair Clarissa Cano said she fears the move will affect student performance in the regional science fair, but she does not think it will negatively affect test scores.

"Without the lab experiences, students will not be able to learn by doing the experiments themselves," Cano said.

Science labs, like this experiment in burning metals, might be eliminated due to budget cuts. High school officials are discussing this matter in great detail.

Spread the word

Student Council helps spread breast cancer awareness

Sandra Ojeda
Editor

Student Council is still selling pink wristbands for Breast Cancer Awareness Month.

So far the group has raised over $1,400 for the Polaski County unit of the American Cancer Society. However, Student Council had not a final raising goal of $2,200 to beat last year's record.

Student Council president Gabriel Gattelman said he hopes students will buy enough wristbands before the end of the month to put the club over its goal.

"We really want to do all we can to help find a cure to end breast cancer," he said.

The bands cost $2 each and are available during all lunches in the cafeteria and in the commons area before and after school. They are also available in the commons area before and after school. They are also available in the commons area before and after school.
