Against World Literature Emily Apter, 2014-06-10 Against World Literature On the Politics of Untranslatability argues for a rethinking of comparative literature focusing on the problems that emerge when large scale paradigms of literary studies ignore the politics of the Untranslatable the realm of those words that are continually retranslated mistranslated transferred from language to language or especially resistant to substitution In the place of World Literature a dominant paradigm in the humanities one grounded in market driven notions of readability and universal appeal Apter proposes a plurality of world literatures oriented around philosophical concepts and geopolitical pressure points The history and theory of the language that constructs World Literature is critically examined with a special focus on Weltliteratur literary world systems narrative ecosystems language borders and checkpoints theologies of translation and planetary devolution in a book set to revolutionize the discipline of comparative literature

The Average José Ken Flynn, 2017-07-12 Canada is a nation built by immigrants and this is the story of one such man In the 1950s Jos Pires bid farewell to his wife of five days leaving the island of S o Miguel in the Azores and coming to Canada in hopes of building a life for his future family Working across Canada on the Canadian Pacific Railway and Canadian National Railway Jos embodied an ideal that is hard to find in today's generation the idea that your life should not be measured by what you achieve for yourself but by what you leave to others An honest loyal man Jos waited eighteen months to see his wife again Maria the love of his life mother of his eventual children and the woman he would years later tend to in chronic care Intelligent and compelling The Average Jos deftly counterbalances Portuguese themes of saudade a simultaneous sense of love and loss and obrigado thankfulness It moves effortlessly between the sometimes dreamlike cultural landscape of the Azores in the forties and fifties and the realities of the Canadian immigrant experience

Fado and the Place of Longing Richard Elliott, 2017-07-05 Fado often described as urban folk music emerged from the streets of Lisbon in the mid nineteenth century and went on to become Portugal's national music during the twentieth It is known for its strong emphasis on loss memory and nostalgia within its song texts which often refer to absent people and places One of the main lyrical themes of fado is the city itself Fado music has played a significant role in the interlacing of mythology history memory and regionalism in Portugal in the second half of the twentieth century Richard Elliott considers the ways in which fado songs bear witness to the city of Lisbon in relation to the construction and maintenance of the local Elliott explores the ways in which fado acts as a cultural product reaffirming local identity via recourse to social memory and an imagined community while also providing a distinctive cultural export for the dissemination of a remembered Portugal on the global stage

Amália Rodrigues's Amália at the Olympia Lila Ellen Gray, 2023-07-27 The voice of Amália Rodrigues 1920-1999 the Queen of Fado and Portugal's most celebrated diva was extraordinary for its interpretive power soul wrenching timbre and international reach Amália l Olympia 1957 is an album made from recordings of her first performances at the fabled Olympia Music Hall in Paris in 1956 This album which was
