Florida World History Chapter 18 Checkpoints:

One Hundred Years of Solitude, Struggle, and Violence along the US/Mexico Border John Thomas, 2018-01-23 This book features oral histories mainly of members of the ranching families who have lived in the Mexican State of Sonora and the corresponding territory in the US that stretches from Tijuana on the California border to Agua Prieta on the Arizona border. The elders in those families recall the tales that their grandparents told providing a century of perspectives on the revolution in economics, culture, and drug trade that the area has witnessed. The book uses the voices of those who have lived through the vicissitudes of border life to paint this cultural upheaval in gripping personal terms. True Heroines William Wilbanks, 2000 Describes the circumstances and events which led to the 138 women law enforcement officers who died in the line of duty, the identity of their perpetrators, and the deposition of the case with a biography and photo of each officer and their descendants. Author Dr. William Wilbanks carefully researched each case and unveiled the mystery of unsolved deaths.

Boardinghouse Women Elizabeth S. D. Engelhardt, 2023-11-14 In this innovative and insightful book, Elizabeth Engelhardt argues that modern American food, business, caretaking, politics, sex, travel, writing, and restaurants all owe a debt to boardinghouse women in the South. From the eighteenth century well into the twentieth century, entrepreneurial women ran boardinghouses throughout the South; some also carried the institution to far-flung places like California, New York, and London. Owned and operated by Black, Jewish, Native American, and white women, rich and poor, immigrant and native-born, these lodgings were often hubs of business innovation and engines of financial independence for their owners. Within their walls, boardinghouse residents and owners developed the region's earliest printed cookbooks, created space for making music and writing literary works, formed ad hoc communities of support, tested boundaries of race and sexuality, and more. Engelhardt draws on a vast archive to recover boardinghouse women's stories, revealing what happened in the kitchens, bedrooms, hallways, back stairs, and front porches, as well as behind closed doors. Legacies still with us today.

Shadowed Lives Leo Ralph Chavez, 1998 One of the few case studies of undocumented immigrants available, this insightful anthropological analysis humanizes a group of people too often reduced to statistics and stereotypes. The hardships of Hispanic migration are conveyed in the immigrants' own voices, while the author's voice raises questions about power, stereotypes, settlement, and incorporation into American society. Rocket Dreams Christian Davenport, 2025-09-15 A thrilling account of Walter Isaacson: Musk versus Bezos, China versus the United States, The government versus the private sector.
