Geographical Data Handling Grade12:

Progress in Spatial Data Handling Andreas Riedl,Wolfgang Kainz,Gregory A. Elmes,2006-09-01 Since the first symposium in 1984 the International Symposia on Spatial Data Handling SDH has become a major resource for recent advances in GIS research The International Symposium on Spatial Data Handling is regarded as a premier international research forum for GIS All papers are fully reviewed by an international program committee composed of experts in the field

Multidimensional Geographic Information Science Jonathan Raper,2000-11-23 The way people normally view a GIS is 2 dimensional a greatly limiting form However as developments occur within the field researchers and practitioners are finding ways to make a GIS 3 dimensional and in some instances even 4 dimensional Being able to view a GIS in more than 2 dimensions greatly enhances its usability This forward lookin

Artificial Intelligent Methods for Handling Spatial Data Jörg Verstraete,2018-08-31 This book provides readers with an insight into the development of a novel method for regriding gridded spatial data an operation required to perform the map overlay operation and apply map algebra when processing spatial data It introduces the necessary concepts from spatial data processing and fuzzy rulebase systems and describes the issues experienced when using current regriding algorithms The main focus of the book is on describing the different modifications needed to make the problem compatible with fuzzy rulebases It offers a number of examples of out of the box thinking to handle aspects such as rulebase construction defuzzification spatial data comparison etc At first the emphasis is put on the newly developed method and additional datasets containing information on the underlying spatial distribution of the data are identified After this an artificial intelligent system in the form of a fuzzy inference system is constructed using this knowledge and then applied on the input data to perform the regriding The book offers an example of how an apparently simple problem can pose many different challenges even when trying to solve it with existing soft computing technologies The workflow and solutions to solve these challenges are universal and may therefore be broadly applied into other contexts

GIS for Business and Service Planning Paul A. Longley,Graham Clarke,1996-02-14 GIS for Business and Service Planning Edited by Paul Longley Graham Clarke The field of geographical information systems GIS is developing rapidly finding applications in an ever widening range of commercial contexts This volume examines the practical use of GIS for business and service planning It considers ways in which GIS may be customised to meet specific user requirements and tackle the applied research challenges of the late 1990s GIS for Business and Service Planning introduces the management analysis and modelling of information within GIS and considers some of the basic problems and pitfalls that can occur in practice covers the major topics of geodemographics and how geographical information can be manipulated and merged into business application databases discusses the relative merits of customised versus proprietary solutions to business application databases examines the range of consultancy applications of GIS for business using international case studies assessing how recent applications have benefited from research developments critically assesses GIS in the market
