Constructing Languages Francesc Feliu, Josep Maria Nadal, 2016-08-25 As language historians we believe that the subject of our study is neither natural languages nor idiolects which speakers have always been able to develop individually loosely what Chomsky calls L i but rather the social constructions of reference shared by all speakers basically what Chomsky terms as L e In this context the language historian essentially studies how a public L e is built such that it can be understood as the language of all i e hiding L i variations and also how L e succeed in replacing the primary reality of idiolects even if only in the imagination Writing represents a crucial turning point in language construction because it made it possible to materialize the abstraction that until then related speakers could only guess and besides it comes into competition with individual languages In modern centuries the provision of grammars dictionaries and other such learning tools and systematizing instruments strengthens the idea that because of their normative character languages can be learned through study Mythical stories encourage the achievement of prescriptive rules and lead speakers to link emotions to their language Therefore the topics of reflection that we want to discuss in this volume are Norms Myths and Emotions related to language construction

Middle and Modern English Corpus Linguistics Manfred Markus, Yoko Iyeiri, Reinhard Heuberger, 2012 This book brings together a variety of approaches to English corpus linguistics and shows how corpus methodologies can contribute to the linking of diachronic and synchronic studies The articles in this volume investigate historical changes in the English language as well as specific aspects of Middle and Modern English and moreover of English dialects The contributions also discuss the development of English corpus linguistics generally and its potential in the future Special focus is given to the continuity between Middle and Modern English much in line with the linking in previous studies of Middle English and Old English under the generic term medievalism This volume highlights the continual development of English from the medieval to modern period

English-Speaking Towns and Cities: Memoirs and Narratives Glain Olivier, 2020-09-18 This book relies on a multidisciplinary approach that allows the authors to bear witness to the realities and representations of various urban environments in the English speaking world in complementary ways They deal with the motifs of urban identity and expression from several methodological and theoretical perspectives sociolinguistics soundscapes architecture stylistics literature This book analyses the representations of and the changes in urban identity through different forms of linguistic and artistic expression associated with several English speaking towns and cities The protagonists are in order of appearance Sydney Melbourne Manchester Liverpool Glasgow Houghton le Spring Kolkata New York City London Sheffield Aberdeen Dublin and Edinburg Cet ouvrage s'appuie sur une approche pluridisciplinaire qui permet de rendre compte des réalités et des représentations d'environnements urbains anglophones de manière complémentaire Les auteurs abordent la question de l'identité et de l'expression urbaine selon des perspectives méthodologiques et théoriques diverses sociolinguistique environnement sonore architecture stylistique littérature L'ouvrage vise rendre compte des représentations et des mutations identitaires des villes anglophones travers des modes d'expression linguistiques et artistiques qui leur sont propres Les protagonistes sont par ordre d'apparition Sydney Melbourne Manchester Liverpool Glasgow Houghton le Spring Kolkata New York Londres Sheffield Aberdeen Dublin et Edimbourg

Historical Dictionaries and Historical Dictionary Research

Julie Coleman, Anne McDermott, 2012-10-24 This volume is a collection of papers from the 1st International Conference on Historical Lexicography and Lexicology at the University of Leicester in 2002 The purpose of the conference was to bring together scholars and academics from around the world working as scholars and editors on historical dictionaries or as practising lexicographers The papers are accordingly arranged in two sections reflecting the distinction between those individuals working on the historical development of dictionaries and those considering the lexicological problems and challenges facing the lexicographer in attempting to represent as fully and justly as possible historical forms of the English language     Language, Borders and Identity Dominic Watt, 2014-10-12 Identifying and examining political socio psychological and symbolic borders Language Borders and Identity encompasses a broad geographically diverse spectrum of border contexts taking a multi disciplinary approach by combining sociolinguistics research with human geography anthropology and social psychology     Speech Rate, Pause and Sociolinguistic Variation T. Kendall, 2013-03-08 This book provides a fascinating account of the psycholinguistic and social factors behind variation in speech timing in US English With detailed discussions of its methods and data it also acts as a valuable model for conducting corpus socio phonetic research
