Frontiers and Advances in Positive Learning in the Age of InformaTiOn (PLATO)

Olga Zlatkin-Troitschanskaia, 2020-01-02 Research on students' media use outside of education is just slowly taking off. Influences of information and communication technologies (ICT) on human information processing are widely assumed, and particularly effects of dis- and misinformation are a current threat to democracies. Today, higher education competes with a very diverse online media landscape and domain-specific content from sources of varying quality, ranging from high quality videographed lectures by top level university lecturers, popular scientific video talks, collaborative wikis, anonymous forum comments or blog posts to YouTube remixes of discipline factoids and unverified twitter feeds. Self-organizing learners need more knowledge, skills, and awareness on how to critically evaluate quality and select trustworthy sources, how to process information, and what cognitive, affective, attitudinal, behavioral, and neurological effects it can have on them in the long term. The PLATO program takes on the ambitious goal of uniting strands of research from various disciplines to address these questions through fundamental analyses of human information processing when learning with the Internet. This innovative interdisciplinary approach includes elements of ICT innovations and risks, learning analytics, and large scale computational modelling, aimed to provide us with a better understanding of how to effectively and autonomously acquire reliable knowledge in the Information Age, how to design ICTs and shape social and human-machine interactions for successful learning. This volume will be of interest to researchers in the fields of educational sciences, educational measurement, and applied branches of the involved disciplines, including linguistics, mathematics, media studies, sociology of knowledge, philosophy of mind, business ethics, and educational technology. The End of Sex and the Future of Human

Reproduction Henry T. Greely, 2016-05-30 Will the future confront us with human GMOs Greely provocatively declares yes and while clearly explaining the science spells out the ethical political and practical ramifications Paul Berg Nobel Laureate and recipient of the National Medal of Science Within twenty maybe forty years most people in developed countries will stop having sex for the purpose of reproduction Instead prospective parents will be told as much as they wish to know about the genetic makeup of dozens of embryos and they will pick one or two for implantation gestation and birth And it will be safe lawful and free In this work of prophetic scholarship Henry T Greely explains the revolutionary biological technologies that make this future a seeming inevitability and sets out the deep ethical and legal challenges humanity faces as a result Readers looking for a more in depth analysis of human genome modifications and reproductive technologies and their legal and ethical implications should strongly consider picking up Greely's The End of Sex and the Future of Human Reproduction It has the potential to empower readers to make informed decisions about the implementation of advancements in genetics technologies Dov Greenbaum Science Greely provides an extraordinarily sophisticated analysis of the practical political legal and ethical implications of the new world of human reproduction His book is a model of highly informed rigorous thought provoking speculation about an immensely important topic Glenn C Altschuler Psychology Today Social Justice, Multicultural Counseling, and Practice Heesoon Jun, 2024-03-12 This third edition book offers a paradigm shift in thinking from binary to complex and enables visibility for the intersectionality of multiple identities that range from privileged to oppressed For example real people's heterogeneous racial identities within the same racial group are visible A paradigm shift in learning from conceptual to transformative connects conceptual learning cognition to their experience affect transformation does not simply emerge due to the individual's awareness but is experienced Benetka Joerchel 2016 p 22 Uncensored first person subjective written responses to specific questions to access unconscious and implicit bias will connect the writer's experience to conceptual learning of diversity equity and inclusion Writing in third person objective interrupts the transformative aspect by bypassing the accessibility of inner experience Writing in first person connects the writer to their experience which allows the unconscious to be accessed if it is practiced on a regular basis This book is for everyone who wants to implement diversity equity and inclusion measures by learning to access their unconscious bias Understanding social justice and equity and good intentions alone do not lead to accessing unconscious bias Life: The Science of Biology David E.
