Muranga University Fees Structure:

The Higher Education Institutions Handbook, 2012 Murang'a Mjini Improvement Scheme Marja Hoek-Smit, 1976 Some Economic Aspects of the Structure and Organization of Small Scale Marketing Systems Frank Arnal Wilson, 1973 Women's Access to Higher Education in Africa Joy C. Kwesiga, 2002 This book addresses the gender divide in access to higher education and the Ugandan situation. It examines theories of girls' education, human capital, gender inequality and gender development, bringing views from Africa and its institutions to debates often constructed and conducted in the West. Whilst commending the work of women's movements and NGOs in furthering the educational cause, it criticises fashionable neo-liberal economic educational policies which are diverting resources not institutions, thus diminishing local universities and women. The volume also presents the results of a survey of female undergraduates at the University of Makerere which give rise to discussions about family, societal and institutional influences on women's access to higher education. This is a welcome book on women in higher education, written by an African female academic insider and popular and outstanding contributor to the progress of women in higher education in East Africa. Land, Ecology and Resistance in Kenya, 1880-1952 Fiona Mackenzie, 1998 This book charts the story of the social and environmental challenges met in Kenya over a period of 70 years. Using rich case material and first-hand ethnographic material, it explores the social, cultural and historical aspects of colonialism in Kenya. In particular, it recognises the leading role played by women in resisting the chiefs and the colonial administration. Addressing the debates of central and eastern Africa and the central struggle for land in Kenya between settler and African, this book highlights the uses of betterment and environmentalism as a weapon by settlers to legitimise their occupation of the land. Land Ecology and Resistance in Kenya 1880-1952 was the winner of the 1997-8 Joel Gregory Prize for the best book on Africa written by a Canadian or Canadian resident. Mathare Valley David Etherton, 1971 A young man has a lifelong love of rock collecting that eventually leads him to work at a science museum. Listening to Ourselves Chike Jeffers, 2013-09-09 A groundbreaking contribution to the discipline of philosophy, this volume presents a collection of philosophical essays written in indigenous African languages by professional African philosophers, with English translations on the facing pages, demonstrating the linguistic and conceptual resources of African languages for a distinctly African philosophy. Hailing from five different countries and writing in six different languages, the seven authors featured include some of the most prominent African philosophers of our time. They address a range of topics including the nature of truth, different ways of conceiving time, the linguistic status of proverbs, how naming practices work, gender equality and inequality in traditional society, the relationship between language and thought, and the extent to which morality is universal or culturally variable. Our Geographic Mosaic David B. Knight, 1985-09-15 Masters Abstracts, 1981 Sustaining Change In Universities Clark, Burton R., 2004-09-01 In this work, Burton R.
