Richard Bartoo,Norma Bartoo,2013-08-08 Letters from Alaska Someone has commented that the Bartoo family is made of people who are highly literate adventurous and in love with the outdoors and animals From the articles in this collection I think any reader will agree with that In their 30 to 40 years of living in Alaska my mom and dad wrote many things to describe what their life was like Some were letters written to family and friends some were trapping logs some were just personal accounts of activities on hunting trips and other travels often written strictly for their own enjoyment My mother and dad were over 50 when they moved to Alaska and started a new life there From my mothers letters over the years she tells all about their life in Alaska in the 20th century She makes the stories of their experiences come alive hunting for moose goats or caribou then fishing for salmon and halibut and how they lost the Salmon Derby and their fur trapping of mink martin etc The perennial question folks ask Whats it like to live in Alaska Mom answers from her viewpoint both in showing details of daily routines of growing flowers while weeding and feeding mosquitoes as well as how to prepare for spending weeks or months at a time in the bush on their annual trapping trip The Peace I Know Udochukwu Vincent

Ogbuji,2013-02 There is an ancient proverb that instructs Physician heal thyself It helps to keep this saying in mind as we seek to bring peace to others That is because our collective peace of mind makes for a beautiful life family and society and no one gives what he or she has not As a priest my endeavor to bring inner healing and peace to many comes with challenges among which includes maintaining my own personal tranquility Urged by my friends and wish to make a difference I decided to write this book after my car accident and resulting paralysis I hope that reading this book will inspire you to continue searching for peace and what makes life worth living Son of Sister Maria Michael Parlee,2011-07-11

As an older foster child Andrew longed for the day when hed be adopted by a real family because they loved him and wanted him to be part of their family unit Until that day dawned like many other foster kids he lived with the stigma that he was kept by his foster parents to generate income for them Of late bad had gone to worse for 13 year old Andrew He was being sexually abused by Blanche his new single foster mom Blanche had been abandoned by her husband and despised men Although she used Andrew for her own depraved needs she treated him poorly To add to his pain news of this sexual relationship leaked out to his peers at school and he was now enduring verbal torment at recesses and noon hour Andrew couldnt bear the pain any longer when the only friend who'd stuck up for him at school turned against him. He felt totally alone so unloved. Dear God, I have nothing left to live for. He sobbed one night when his foster mom left for a party. Please forgive me for what I have to do but I'm hurting so much. Andrew headed to his foster mother's shed to get the rope. With the rope coiled up under his coat, he headed to the big black poplar tree in the Kinsman Park. Twelve feet off the ground was a large branch at right angles to the trunk. Andrew quickly fashioned a hangman's noose and shinnied up the tree. Bracing himself with his legs, he slipped the noose over his head and tied the other end of the rope to the branch. Grasping the branch, he let himself down. As he hung there by his fingertips, his short life passed before him.

Called Out But Safe Al Clark, Dan Schlossberg, 2014-05-01. If an umpire could steal the show in a Major League game, Al Clark might well have been the one to do it. Tough but fair in his thirty years as a professional umpire, he took on some of baseball's great umpire baiters such as Earl Weaver, Billy Martin, and Dick Williams while ejecting any number of the game's elite, once tearing a hamstring in the process. He was the first Jewish umpire in American League history and probably the first to eject his own father from the officials' dressing room. But whatever Clark was doing officiating at Nolan Ryan's three hundredth win, Cal Ripken's record breaker, or the earthquake World Series of 1989 or braving a labor dispute, an anti-Semitic tirade by a Cy Young Award winner, or a legal imbroglio, it makes for a good story. Called Out but Safe is Clark's outspoken and often hilarious account of his life in baseball, from umpire school through the highlights to the inglorious end of his stellar career. Not just a source of baseball history and lore, Clark's book also affords a rare look at what life is like for someone who works for the Major League's other team.

My Mother's Kitchen Peter Gethers, 2017-04-04. My Mother's Kitchen is a funny, moving memoir about a son's discovery that his mother has a genius for understanding the intimate connections between cooking, people, and love. Peter Gethers wants to give his aging mother a very personal and perhaps final gift: a spectacular feast featuring all her favorite dishes. The problem is, although he was raised to love food and wine, he doesn't really know how to cook. So he embarks upon an often hilarious and always touching culinary journey that will ultimately allow him to bring his mother's friends and loved ones to the table one last time. The daughter of a restaurateur, the restaurant was New York's legendary Ratner's. Judy Gethers discovered a passion for cooking in her 50s. In time, she became a mentor and friend to several of the most famous chefs in America, including Wolfgang Puck, Nancy Silverton, and Jonathan Waxman. She also wrote many cookbooks and taught cooking alongside Julia Child. In her 80s, she was robbed of her ability to cook by a debilitating stroke. But illness has brought her closer than ever to her son. Peter regularly visits her so they can share meals, and he can ask questions about her colorful past while learning her kitchen secrets. Gradually, his ambition becomes manifest: he decides to learn how to cook his mother the meal of her dreams and thereby tell the story of her life to all those who have loved her. With his trademark wit and knowing eye, Peter Gethers has written an unforgettable memoir about how food and family can do much more than feed us; they can nourish our souls.
