Gender and Media in the Broadcast Age Justine Lloyd, 2020-01-01 The 20th century was a time of rapid expansion in media industries as well as of accelerating demands for equality and recognition for women While women s agency has typically been defined through the domestic sphere the introduction of media into the home destabilised firm boundaries between public and private spheres Gender and Media in the Broadcast Age demonstrates how women as media producers and audiences in three countries with public service broadcasters UK Canada and Australia have contributed to changes in our understandings of public and private Justine Lloyd offers a new way of understanding how tremendous changes in social definitions of gender roles played out in media forms worldwide during this period through the notion of intimate geographies Women s participation in media continues to be a key challenge to notions of the public sphere and the book concludes that profound changes initiated in the broadcast era are unfinished in the age of digital media Lloyd therefore provides rich and valuable evidence of the dynamic relationship between media texts producers and audiences that is relevant to contemporary debates about a growing gender apartheid in a mediated culture

Rowlett, Vitor Tardelli, 2023-10-20 Benzodiazepine type drugs benzodiazepines and newer non benzodiazepines such as Z drugs are important therapeutic tools in psychiatric medicine being among the most highly prescribed psychiatric medications Despite their clinical usefulness benzodiazepines also induce several unwanted side effects including abuse and dependence In fact the misuse and abuse of benzodiazepines have increased dramatically in recent years with overdose deaths due to the combination of benzodiazepines and opioids reaching an all time high emphasizing that benzodiazepine abuse is cause for concern Critically no approved and broadly effective pharmacotherapy exists for the treatment of benzodiazepine misuse use disorder

New Models of Care for Patients with Severe Mental Illness – Bridging In- and Outpatients Martin Heinze,Yasser Khazaal,Alexandre Wullschleger,2018-03-13 Over the past years psychiatric services have been continuously faced with the challenge of providing comprehensive care to people suffering from severe mental illnesses Legal and conceptual advances like the UN convention on the rights of persons with disabilities or the concept of recovery have rendered this challenge more actual and urgent than ever However psychiatric institutions often show only low levels of cooperation and integration between their different services Hence they need to develop new ways of bridging all sectors of care in order to help people most in need on their way to recovery and full inclusion in society In this research topic European researchers and clinicians present new ways of dealing with this essential issue by developing strategies and interventions on both institutional and non institutional levels The nine contributions of this ebook thus reflect actual clinical and conceptual considerations They all aim at improving quality of care and providing adequate support to people suffering from severe mental illness

Dementia, Frailty and Aging Marco Canevelli,Matteo Cesari,Wee Shiong Lim,2018-07-03 The number of older subjects is rapidly increasingly worldwide As a consequence the nature of clinical conditions is also changing Traditional medicine and models of care have been based on the evaluation and treatment of single and usually acute conditions occurring in relatively young individuals Today the usual clinical manifestation of diseases is characterized by multiple and often chronic conditions affecting older people In this scenario frailty and dementia have been triggering special interest both in research and clinical settings due to their high prevalence impact on the individual s quality of life and consequences for public health worldwide These conditions aptly reflect the complexity of age related pathological conditions finding as causal factor a myriad of heterogeneous interacting and often still unclear pathophysiological processes Indeed their study is strongly affected by the difficulty to differentiate the effects of a normal aging process from eventual pathological deviations of the underlying systems Their occurrence and trajectories over time are strongly affected by a wide array of factors and determinants that can be hardly attributed to the deficit involvement of single biological systems and or health domains Moreover environment and social factors also play a key role in the determination of phenotypes The present Research Topic is aimed at widening our understanding of the frailty and dementia phenomena occurring with aging in order to improve the clinical and public health approaches to these burdening conditions Advanced Perspectives in Cell Therapy and Correlated Immunopharmacology Wenru Su,Yong Tao,Xiaomin Zhang,Zhiming Lin,Shengping Hou,2022-03-29
