Chapter XV. Jack Thayer's Story Wreck (of the Titanic)

One of the calmest of the passengers was: young Jack Thayer, the seventeen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Thayer. When his mother was put into the life-boat he kissed her and told her to be brave, saying that he and his father would be all right. He and Mr. Thayer stood on the deck as the small boat in which Mrs. Thayer was a passenger made off from the side of the Titanic over the smooth sea.

Sinking of the Titanic

The boy's own account of his experience as told to one of his relatives is one of the most remarkable of all the wonderful ones that have come out of this tremendous catastrophe:

"Father was in bed, and mother and myself were about to get up. There was no great shock. I was on my feet at the time and I do not remember throwing anyone down. I put on an overcoat and rushed to the deck. I saw nothing there. I then went forward to the bow. I saw no signs of ice. The only ice I saw was on the side of the ship, very far ahead, having just come out of a brightly lighted room.

"I then went down to our room and my father and mother came with me, to the starboard side of A deck. We did not see anything there. Father thought he saw small pieces of ice floating around, but not see any myself. There was no big berg. We waited a few minutes, and the ship had then a fair list to port. We stayed on the starboard side for about five minutes. The list seemed very slow. We then went down to our rooms on C deck, all of us doing so. We put on our clothes. We all put on life-preservers, and then we put our overcoats. Then we hurried up on deck and walked around on the side for about five minutes. The list seemed very slow. We then went down to our rooms on C deck, all of us doing so. We put on our clothes. We all put on life-preservers, and then we put our overcoats. Then we hurried up on deck and walked around on the side for about five minutes. The list seemed very slow.

SEPARATED FROM PARENTS

"Father and I said good-bye to mother at the top of the stairs on A deck. She and the maid went right out on A deck on the port side and we
