

INTERVIEWING GUIDE

The Purpose of Interviews

The purpose of an interview is two-fold: to market your skills and relevant experience to the interviewer and to evaluate the organization's appropriateness for you. You accomplish this by showing the interviewer that you have the ability, communication skills, personality, growth potential, maturity, and intelligence to do a good job for that organization.

For many, the interview causes some degree of nervousness. This is normal; however, excessive nervousness may work against you. Others approach interviews with little enthusiasm and virtually no preparation. A laissez-faire attitude can be just as detrimental as excessive panic.

There are many different types of interviews and interview questions. Use this guide to prepare on your own or with other students, but also make time to meet with Career Development staff for mock interviews and feedback.

Preparing for an Interview

Preparation is an essential part of a successful interview. Taking the time to research a company well and practice interviewing with a specific job in mind is very helpful. This section will help you to consider the things that need to happen before you arrive for your interview day. It is helpful to have at least one or two mock interviews prior to your actual interview.
