Directions for INTRO-

1. After opening the website above, click on the INTRO box.
2. To add a gas to the container, move the air pump handle up and down, three or four times.
 - a. After each of the following changes, describe what happens to the air pressure reading, that you see in the gauge in the upper right corner of the container.
 - i. Move the toggle switch on the "Heat/Cool" bucket below the container UP, indicating an increase in temperature.
As the temp increases, the molecules should move more quickly, colliding more often and INCREASING THE PRESSURE
 - ii. Predict what would happen if you had cooled the temp.
As the temp decreases, the molecules should move more slowly, colliding less often and DECREASING THE PRESSURE
 - iii. Now move the handle at the top of the container to the left, briefly, and close again. You have allowed some gas to escape.
As the # of gas particles decreases, the molecules should collide less often and DECREASE THE PRESSURE
 - iv. Now move the handle, to the left of the container, towards the right. After you describe the change in the pressure reading, what did you just do to the volume of the container?
As the volume decreases, the molecules should collide more often and INCREASE THE PRESSURE
 - v. Predict what would happen to the pressure if you increase the volume of the container. Try it.
As the volume increases, the molecules should collide less often and DECREASE THE PRESSURE
3. Now move your cursor to the bottom of the page and click on the LAWS box. Once open, move the air pump handle up and down again to add gas to your container.
4. To simulate one of the gas laws, in the box off to the right that says HOLD CONSTANT, click on only temperature.
 - a. What is the pressure in your container? [answers may vary]
 - b. At this setting, with the temp constant, and without changing the number of gas molecules in the container, what two variables could be changed?
PRESSURE & VOLUME
 - c. What gas law focuses on those two variables?
BOYLE'S LAW
 - d. Make a change to one of these variables and identify the resulting impact on the other variable. [answers may vary]

Agricultural Land Use and Natural Gas Extraction Conflicts Madeline Taylor, Tina Hunter, 2018-11-02 Onshore unconventional gas operations in most jurisdictions operate on the legal principle that all activities during exploration and extraction are temporary in nature The concept that the onshore unconventional gas industry has a temporary effect on the land on which it operates creates a regulatory paradox On one hand unconventional gas activities create energy security national wealth and a burgeoning export industry On the other agricultural land and agriculturalists may be significantly disadvantaged by unconventional gas activities potentially producing permanent damage to non renewable fertile soils and spoiling the underground water tables Thus threatening future food security and food sovereignty This book explores the socio regulatory dimensions of coexistence between agricultural and onshore unconventional gas land uses in the jurisdictions with the highest concentration of proven unconventional gas reserves Australia Canada the USA the UK France

Poland and China In exploring the differing regulatory standpoints of unconventional gas land uses on productive farming land in the chosen jurisdictions this book provides an original three part categorisation of regulatory approaches addressing the coexistence of agricultural land and unconventional gas namely adaptive management precautionary and finally statism It offers a timely and topical approach to socio legal natural resource governance theory based on the participation transparency and empowerment for agricultural landholders examining how differing frameworks such as the collective bargaining framework can create equitable and sustainable contractual arrangements with unconventional gas companies
