Harvard Law Review:
Volume 131, Number 4 - February 2018 Harvard Law Review,2018-02-21 New to the LSP classroom? A selection of monographs on successful practices Martina Vránová,2023-05-23 As Languages for Specific Purposes have always been defined as student oriented the rationale behind this volume is to use the rather neglected niche of the other necessary agent of language instruction and thus focus on the LSP practitioner This turn towards the instructor has been motivated by the fact that a great number of LSP practitioners enter their jobs without previous expertise They lack LSP education or they may not even have a background in applied linguistics This motivation has proven valid as many of the volume s contributors have faced this particular situation in their professional lives For insights into the LSP field and guidelines on the best practices they must rely on their colleagues who offer to share their experience through workshops conferences or papers which is what this volume provides The primary goal of this volume is to present considerations of what challenges LSP practitioners face and should be prepared for in their jobs and to provide practice tested methodological guidelines on such demanding teaching techniques as blended and flipped learning or tandem learning All papers have been written by LSP practitioners and researchers in higher education Thus this volume provides both guidance and self reflection In other words it is written by experienced LSP practitioners for aspiring LSP practitioners about how they see themselves and what effort they make to meet the challenges of their jobs As proof that LSP practice is a global challenge papers have been collected from many European countries the USA Uruguay Even though most papers are naturally concerned with English being the lingua franca of today the collection also features guidelines for teaching Spanish French and Dutch for specific purposes Moreover the target disciplines these languages are taught for encompass business engineering sociology or medicine thus supporting the assumption of the universal character of problems LSP practitioners deal with

Food in a Just

World Tracey Harris, Terry Gibbs, 2023-12-07 Food in a Just World examines the violence social breakdown and environmental consequences of our global system of food production distribution and consumption where each step of the process is built on some form of exploitation While highlighting the broken system s continuities from European colonialism the authors argue that the seeds of resilience resistance and inclusive cultural resurgence are already being reflected in the day to day actions of communities around the world Calling for urgent change the book looks at how genuine democracy would give individuals and communities meaningful control over the decisions that impact their lives when seeking to secure humanely this most basic human need Drawing on the perspectives of advocates activists workers researchers and policymakers Harris and Gibbs explore the politics of food in the context of capitalist globalization and the climate crisis uncovering the complexities in our relationships with one another with other animals and with the natural world Integrating Worlds Scott D.

Carpenter, Helena Kaufman, Malene Torp, 2023-07-03 What if our students learn the most when they re far from campus Integrating Worlds demonstrates how high quality off campus study epitomizes integrative learning both supporting and enhancing the entire undergraduate experience While off campus study both study abroad or study away occupies a marginal position on most campuses it has the almost unique capacity to bring together a high concentration of high impact educational practices When we combine global learning with collaborative work shared intellectual pursuits learning communities and more these practices reinforce each other exerting a multiplier effect that can potentially result in the most intense learning experience our students will have It can energize and inspire them for the work they will continue to undertake on their home campus It thus becomes crucial for us to identify or design high quality programs that will achieve these goals Moreover we need to reimagine off campus study as an integrated portion of the undergraduate arc one that begins well before our students depart and continues long after they return In this way we help them understand the interconnectedness not only of the world but also of their own education At the same time the authors recognize material constraints and educational imperatives Off campus study costs money its complexity makes it difficult to assess it overlaps increasingly with internships and civic engagement and by its nature it is more subject to external forces than the on campus experience In careful practical ways Integrating Worlds advances suggestions for dealing with these issues This book urges educators to go beyond the episodic ways we currently link on campus curricula to off campus experience While of interest to specialists in international or intercultural education it speaks most directly to faculty deans and provosts many of whom may have little or dated experience of study abroad and who thus feel unprepared to address this issue of pressing importance As our disciplines and institutions face the complexities of a rapidly changing world this book seeks to fuel the necessary conversations Proceedings of the 8th International Conference on Movement, Health and Exercise Mohd Hasnun Arif Hassan, Ahmad Munir Che Muhamed, Nik Shanita Safii, Lian Yee Kok, Raja Mohammed Firhad Raja Azidin, Noor Azuan Abu Osman, Roosfa Hashim, 2023-07-01 This book gathers papers presented at the 8th International Conference on Movement

Health and Exercise MoHE 2022 with the conference theme Enhancing Health and Sports Performance by Design The topics covered include exercise science human performance physical activity and health sports medicine sports nutrition management and sports studies and sports engineering and technology Its content is of interest to sports scientists researchers and practitioners from various sports and exercise sub disciplines The Language of Patient Feedback Paul Baker,Gavin Brookes,Craig Evans,2019-04-05 The Language of Patient Feedback provides a unique insight into a diverse range of issues related to healthcare Through the comprehensive and detailed interrogation of 29 million words of online patient feedback on the NHS in England as well as 11 million words of responses to the feedback from NHS providers this book Uses a combination of computer assisted and human analysis Corpus Assisted Discourse Analysis to examine the extent to which characteristics like age and gender result in different types of evaluation Investigates why nurses doctors dentists and receptionists are associated with very distinct types of feedback Demonstrates the ways that NHS staff respond to comments and what this reveals about underlying institutional ideologies and practices Concludes with suggestions for key recommendations that the NHS could act upon to improve the overall level of care it provides as well as reflecting on what patient evaluation can actually tell us The Language of Patient Feedback is key reading for anyone undertaking research within corpus linguistics discourse analysis and health communication

Language and Institutional Identity in the Post-Apartheid South African Higher Education Leketi Makalela,2022-03-21 This book examines the intersections between education identity formation and language in post apartheid South Africa with specific attention to higher education It does so against the backdrop of the core argument that the sector plays a critical role in shaping re producing and perpetuating sectoral class sub national and national identities which in turn in the peculiar South African setting are almost invariably analogous with the historical fault lines determined and dictated by language as a marker of ethnic and racial identity The chapters in the book grapple with the nuances related to these intersections in the understanding that higher education language policies overt and or covert largely structure institutional cultures or what has been described as curriculum in higher education institutions Together the chapters examine the roles played by higher education by language policies and by the intersections of these policies and ethnolinguistic identities in either constructing and perpetuating or deconstructing ethnolinguistic identities upon which the sector was founded The introductory chapter lays out the background to the entire book with an emphasis on the policy and practice perspectives on the intersections The middle chapters describe the so called White Universities Black Universities and Middle Man Minorities Universities The final chapter maps out future directions of the discourses on language and identity formation in South Africa s higher education
