Life Science March 2014 Paper And Memo:

Arab Dawn Bessma Momani, 2015-11-26 In the West news about the Middle East is dominated by an endless stream of reports and commentary about civil war sectarian violence religious extremism and economic stagnation But do they tell the full story For instance who knew that university enrolment in the war torn Palestinian territories exceeds that of Hong Kong or that more than a third of Lebanese entrepreneurs are women Change is on its way in the Middle East argues Bessma Momani and its cause is demographic Today one in five Arabs is between the ages of fifteen and twenty four Young optimistic and increasingly cosmopolitan their generation will shape the region's future Drawing on interviews surveys and other research conducted with young people in fifteen countries across the Arab world Momani describes the passion for entrepreneurship reform and equality among Arab youth With insightful political analysis based on the latest statistics and first hand accounts Arab Dawn is an invigorating study of the Arab world and the transformative power of youth

Risk Regulation in the Internal Market Maria Weimer, 2019-03-13 This book offers a topical inquiry into the legal and political limits of EU regulation in the field of risk and new technologies surrounded by techno scientific complexity uncertainty and societal contestation It uses agricultural biotechnology as a paradigmatic example to illustrate the complex intertwinement between environmental public health economic and social concerns in risk regulation Weimer analyses the drawbacks of the EU approach to agricultural biotechnology showing that its reductionism i.e. the narrow understanding of GMO risks as well as the exclusion of broader societal concerns related to environmental and social sustainability has undermined both the legitimacy and effectiveness of EU regulation in this area Resistance to this approach however has also triggered legal innovations prompting us to re think EU internal market law including the way in which it manages the tensions between unity and diversity and between social and economic concerns This text offers fresh and original insights into how far the EU can go in harmonizing regulatory approaches to risk At the same time it proposes new ways of re thinking EU risk regulation to make it more responsive to different perspectives on risk and technology A unique feature of this book is that it contributes to various strains of scholarship including risk regulation internal market law public administration and studies of governance and regulation as well as connecting these themes to broader debates about the legitimacy of European integration and new ways of differentiated integration As a result it assists in re imagining the EU internal market and its regulation as a site of diversity

MAPPING CONFLICT IN CHITTAGONG HILL TRACTS 1997-2014 Zahid ul Arefin Choudhury, 2020-04-27 The issue of the Chittagong Hill Tracts is as divisive as the region itself At one end there are tales of woe how the original inhabitants of the region are being evicted from their land through violence and trickery their marginalization and elimination of their traditional way of life simultaneously while it is being exoticized for tourism These accounts however paint a static picture where the members of these ethnic groups are victims always and without any agency Consequently these accounts fail to hold up in front of close examination and invites counter opinion rage that the Bengali and other ethnicities of CHT are prevented from living in harmony by disruptive elements within the society that the oppression and repression of the hill peoples are made up stories that feed national and international conspiracies In Conflict Mapping in the Chittagong Hill Tracts researchers from the Department of Peace and Conflict Studies at the University of Dhaka cut through this fog of confusion by presenting dispassionate unornamented data With the help of original data and systematic analysis they show how the social life of CHT is marked by deep polarization both within and across the ethnic divide how it is beset by real and perceived accounts of discrimination and by lack of confidence on state agencies and the rule of law They also investigate the trajectory of major cases of violence in the region in the past two decades and reveal that these have a common escalation pattern with various points marked by missed opportunities for prevention Based on a study that draws from a large survey of a cross section of people from 8 of the most crime prone Upazilas of the region semi structured interview of selected elites and analysis of the dynamics of 14 incidents of large scale violence between 1997 and 2014 this book aims at initiating a healthy constructive conversation on the issue It challenges long held prejudices common sense beliefs and unsubstantiated propaganda By offering the lens of social science the book invites readers with well meaning but vague opinions as well as consumers of zealous and spoon fed ideas to form informed and nuanced opinion Global Social Policy Kepa Artaraz,Liz

Cunningham,Michael Hill,2016-06-29 Social policy is a subject that helps develop our understanding of the meaning of human wellbeing and of the systems by which wellbeing must be promoted As a discipline social policy has traditionally been blunted by a focus on the nation state however in this age of globalisation the most pressing challenges such as climate change ageing populations and flagging economies serve as proof that even at national level social policy is now more heavily influenced by global factors than ever before In this important and authoritative text Kepa Artaraz and Michael Hill provide a richly detailed contribution to our understanding of the global forces shaping social problems today Part One discusses the different approaches to social policy and explores the process of globalisation looking particularly at its winners and losers and the implications it has for human well being Part Two examines more closely the key actors in global social policy such as the market the state and international organisations and Part Three provides an opportunity to explore some specific key issues of global importance such as employment and migration demographic change and global poverty Adding considerable momentum to the movement away from a reductionist nationally focused study of the discipline Global Social Policy opens up new and stimulating discussions and provides a fresh framework for the study of human well being Using policy examples from areas around the world to provide a truly international scope it is an essential read for students studying at all levels

Governomics Ian McAuley, Miriam Lyons, 2015-05-01 People have good reason to demand decent public education and a well funded health system to yearn for an economy that doesn't trash the environment or for a smaller gap between rich and poor Almost without exception sound economics is on their side We've grown used to public debates that pit people and the planet against an abstract distorted image of the economy but it doesn't have to be this way Governomics shows that an emaciated state is bad for business and that standing up for government means standing up for a public sector that truly serves the public Everybody knows governments are wasteful incompetent and a drag on the economy But if you're not sure that's true read this book Ross Gittins Sydney Morning Herald and The Age Governomics shows that a market economy can only work when sustained by a strong and active public sector It will inject some much needed economic sanity into conversations on the role of government in Australia John Quiggin Australian Research Council Laureate Fellow University of Queensland

California Dreaming Lawrence J. McQuillan, 2015-05-01 A politically created crisis of epic proportions is brewing in California and elsewhere across the United States For decades public pension officials and politicians of both parties have promised their employees increasingly generous retirement benefits while low balling the contributions from government agencies and employees that are needed to cover these promises presenting our greatest financial challenge since the Great Depression Pushing the pension liability from today and onto our children and grandchildren leaves them with a depleted future and a potentially bankrupt California State and local governments will scramble to find funds forcing them to raise taxes slash public services and or declare bankruptcy Schools parks emergency services and public employee retirement benefits will be at risk Politicians will defer until circumstances force them to reckon with a disaster of their own making The problem For far too long state and local governments have promised their employees increasingly generous retirement benefits but without ensuring that sufficient funds will be on hand when the pension payments come due In California Dreaming Lawrence J McQuillan pulls back the curtains covering this unfunded liability crisis He describes the true extent of the problem explains the critical factors that are driving public pension debt sky high and exposes the perverse incentives of lawmakers and pension officials that reward them for not fixing the problem and letting it escalate Finally he offers the six crucial reforms needed to restore the financial health of California and other threatened jurisdictions If California Dreaming's roadmap for reform is adopted the prospects for achieving a thriving balanced and equitable future are highly favorable in California and any state or municipality facing its own public pension problem If not the many opportunities that once made the Golden State seem like a Promised Land will quickly evaporate

Assured Destruction David Bath, 2020-03-15 Assured Destruction Building the Ballistic Missile Culture of the U S Air Force documents the rapid development of nuclear ballistic missiles in the United States and their equally swift demise after the Cuban Missile Crisis revealing how these drastic changes negatively influenced both the Air Force and the missile community David W Bath contends that the struggle to create and control nuclear ballistic missiles threatened both the dominance of the United States during an intensifying Cold War and the strategic airpower mission of the newly created Air Force. The book details the strenuous efforts required to create and prepare a missile arsenal before the Cuban Missile Crisis, which occurred only five years after the first missile was declared operational. It uses the personal recollections of former missileers and the professional military education theses they wrote to highlight some of the concerns that have faced the missileers who operated and worked on these powerful weapons from 1957 to the present. The highlight of the book, however, is the personal stories of the missileers who served during the missile crisis, revealing the efforts that they went to in order to prepare these unique and untried weapons for what many thought might become the third world war.
