Canadian Plains Research Center,2005 In Arab Cooking on a Saskatchewan Homestead over 200 recipes and the author s recollections from childhood combine to tell the story of a little known group of early immigrants to the Saskatchewan prairies the Syrians most of them later known as Lebanese There was a significant Syrian community in Saskatchewan during the Depression and as Mr Salloum points out their traditional foods and crops were well suited to the dryland farming that the drought of the 1930s demanded. Thus they thrived during this difficult period on the prairies. Their traditional foods such as yogurt, chickpeas, and bulgur were at the time virtually unknown to their fellow homesteaders. Today, however, these same foods are an important part of an increasingly varied and globally influenced North American cuisine.
