How Proust Can Change Your Life English Edition:

How Proust Can Change Your Life Alain De Botton, 2013-01-23 A bestselling author draws on the work of one of history's most important writers to show us how to best live life in a book that's delightfully original A self help book in the deepest sense of the term The New York Times Alain de Botton combines two unlikely genres literary biography and self help manual in the hilarious and unexpectedly practical How Proust Can Change Your Life Who would have thought that Marcel Proust one of the most important writers of our century could provide us with such a rich source of insight into how best to live life Proust understood that the essence and value of life was the sum of its everyday parts As relevant today as they were at the turn of the century Proust's life and work are transformed here into a no nonsense guide to among other things enjoying your vacation reviving a relationship achieving original and uncluttered articulation being a good host recognizing love and understanding why you should never sleep with someone on a first date It took de Botton to find the inspirational in Proust's essays letters and fiction and perhaps even more surprising to draw out a vivid and clarifying portrait of the master from between the lines of his work Here is Proust as we have never seen or read him before witty intelligent pragmatic He might well change your life

On Love Alain de Botton, 2006-01-06 In a novel that explores the realities of being in love two young people meet on a plane to Paris and embark on a love affair based on what they perceive as destiny A first novel Reader's Guide included Reprint

"Do You Consider Yourself a Postmodern Author?" Rudolf Freiburg, 1999 This book presents a collection of twelve interviews with eminent English contemporary writers held during a period of four years The book allows an illuminating insight into a very lively and thought provoking literary culture stirred not only by recent ideas of postmodernism but also by the manifold issues of nationality culture and gender subjected to permanent redefinitions towards the end of the twentieth century The interviews with Peter Ackroyd John Banville Julian Barnes Alain de Botton Maureen Duffy Tibor Fischer John Fowles Romesh Gunsekera Tim Parks Terry Pratchett Jane Rogers and Adam Thorpe cover topics such as the relationship between writer and public the role of the literary tradition the relevance of contemporary literary theory for the production of literature images of nationality intertextuality changes in the attitude towards language and meaning and the reception of literary texts by critical reviewers and literary critics

Human Flourishing in a Technological World Jens Zimmermann, 2023-08-23 Human Flourishing in a Technological World addresses the question of human identity and flourishing in the light of recent technological advances The chapters in Part I provide a philosophical theological evaluation of changing major anthropological assumptions that have guided human self understanding from antiquity to modernity How did we move from a religious and mostly embodied anthropology of the person to the idea that we can upload human consciousness to computing platforms How did we come to imagine that machines can actually be intelligent or even learn in human fashion Moreover what metaphysical changes explain our mostly uncritical embrace of a technological determination of being and thus of how reality works In Part II the focus turns to the practical implications of our changing understanding of what it means to be human Covering some of the most pressing current concerns about human flourishing these chapters deal with the impact of technology on education healthcare disability leisure and the nature of work communication aging death and the nature of wisdom for human flourishing in light of evolutionary biology The volume includes the text of a lecture by virtual reality engineer and computer scientist Jaron Lanier and a discussion between Lanier and other contributors

The Seduction of Pessimism in the Novel Tom Ribitzky, 2024-10-18 The Seduction of Pessimism in the Novel Eros Failure and the Quarrel with Philosophy explores the novel as a response to the Platonic myth that narrates the rift at the core of our being Eros is supposedly the consolation for this rift but the history of the novel documents its expression as one of frustrated desires neuroses anxieties and cosmic doom As if repeating the trauma from that original split in Plato a split that also divides philosophy from literature the novel treats eros as a site of loss and grief from the medieval romances to Goethe Brontë Proust Mann Woolf Lawrence and Nabokov The pessimism that emerges from this eros tells us something fundamental about who we are something that only the novel can say At a time when both education and leisure are increasingly ignoring the novel's imperative to sit with ambiguity complexity and contingency and as we are hurtling toward a bleak future of climate catastrophe and political instability the novel is one of the last bastions of humanity even as it is quickly being eroded

Repair the World Alexandre Gefen, 2024-08-19 Talk of repair has become ubiquitous in recent years In the age of trauma culture art and literature have a new purpose to do justice to console comfort and heal Drawing on works of twenty first century French language literature this monograph shows how literature can not only serve as a means of personal development but expand our capacity for empathy help repair the brokenness implied in victimhood and redress individual and collective traumas Centered on a critical reflection on discourses of repair and reparations it questions the canonical theories on the functions of literature and proposes a new way of writing and reading literary history. Praise Repair the World is an invigorating and essential call to arms. The modern category of the literary it declares is being outpaced by the contemporary uses of literature as a medium of exorcism, empathy, reparation, testimony, commemoration, existential renewal, and ethical or political connectivity. Neither celebrating nor condemning such uses, Gefen models a much needed style of criticism: interdisciplinary, pragmatic, relational, that comes to grips with their importance. Rita Felski, the John Stewart Bryan Professor and Professor of English at the University of Virginia, USA. In an era where self-help memoir and autobiography command more than their fair share of publisher's lists in France, it's tempting some fifty years after post-structuralism's heyday to ascribe an impending death of literature to a taste for narcissistic exhibitionism in French literary culture. But why bemoan the waning relevance of the question what is literature asks Alexandre Gefen when evidence abounds in the new century that literary writing increasingly posits itself as a restorative, reparative act. In the best instances, authors who give form to embodied experience imaginatively forge with their readers empathetic bonds of the sort that secular and religious institutions long sustained. Repair the World is not only a capacious study of writers who hail from surprisingly broad sectors of French society, from health and social workers to skilled laborers, journalists and educators, it's a situated call for a pragmatics of reading that makes of each book an intervention into the fabric of the real. Harnessing sources in affect theory, trauma studies, ethics, and cognitive science, Alexandre Gefen performs a critically reparative act, all his own, reminding us that the notion of literature as an autonomous object was itself a historical construct, in short, an ideology. Reading and writing have always conjoined care for the self and care for others, and it's upon that reciprocity that the communities of sense of tomorrow can flourish in a spirit of reparative humanism. Derek Schilling, Professor of French, Director of the Centre Louis Marin, Department of Modern Languages and Literatures, Johns Hopkins University, USA. Alexandre Gefen's wide-ranging, thought-provoking study takes stock of a paradigm shift in contemporary French literature away from a model of autonomy and intransitivity to ways of writing and reading that seek to repair, restore, reassure, and rebuild. From the varied forms of expressivity found in self-narratives to the empathetic projections of fiction, Repair the World maps out an expanding literary territory that seeks not critical negativity but rather the power to intervene for good in individual and collective life. While reserving judgment on the actual extent of literature's effects, Gefen demonstrates that contemporary projects and discourses undeniably center the therapeutic and remedial uses of literature. With its nuanced readings and keen insights, Repair the World has been rightly influential in France; its powerful diagnosis of contemporary sensibilities resonates far beyond, revealing both the promises and predicaments of literature in the twenty-first century. Alison James, Professor of French and Chair of the Department of Romance Languages and Literatures at the University of Chicago, USA. What would it mean to ask Sartre's post-war question, What is literature in the 21st century? In this wonderful essay, Alexandre Gefen argues convincingly that the main purpose of literature today is to repair a broken world and memorialise forgotten lives. Taking examples from predominantly contemporary French literature he proposes that literature as therapy has replaced religions of salvation a politics of emancipation and formal experimentation Today literature s mission is to heal traumatised individuals and communities resurrect the lives of the vulnerable and commemorate their deeds in the face of the forces of oblivion For Gefen Patrick Modiano s Dora Bruder 1997 is the contemporary literary archetype of these lost identities to be rehabilitated and reinhabited Gefen describes this new role for literature without taking sides the writing is lucid compelling and non partisan In an age of victimhood testimony empathy self expression and identity Gefen s reparative paradigm is as persuasive as Sartre s political version in the age of ideology Max Silverman Professor of Modern French Studies University of Leeds UK
