An Applied Guide to Process and Plant Design Sean Moran,2019-06-12 An Applied Guide to Process and Plant

Design 2nd edition is a guide to process plant design for both students and professional engineers. The book covers plant layout and the use of spreadsheet programs and key drawings produced by professional engineers as aids to design subjects that are usually learned on the job rather than in education. You will learn how to produce smarter plant design through the use of computer tools including Excel and AutoCAD. What If Analysis, statistical tools and Visual Basic for more complex problems. The book also includes a wealth of selection tables covering the key aspects of professional plant design which engineering students and early career engineers tend to find most challenging. Professor Moran draws on over 20 years experience in process design to create an essential foundational book ideal for those who are new to process design compliant with both professional practice and the IChemE degree accreditation guidelines. Includes new and expanded content including illustrative case studies and practical examples. Explains how to deliver a process design that meets both business and safety criteria. Covers plant layout and the use of spreadsheet programs and key drawings as aids to design. Includes a comprehensive set of selection tables covering aspects of professional plant design which early career designers find most challenging.

Creating and Promoting Lifelong Learning in Public Libraries Donna L. Gilton, 2016-06-21. Creating and Promoting Lifelong Learning in Public Libraries: Tools and Tips for Practitioners is the sequel to Lifelong Learning in Public Libraries: Principles, Programs and People. On the one hand Lifelong Learning in Public Libraries focuses on the information needs and the developmental and psychological characteristics of diverse library users of all ages. It endorses the use of ILI to promote lifelong learning in public libraries both by borrowing techniques from academic and school libraries and by building on existing public library traditions of programming and outreach. This book also compares lifelong learning in public libraries to informal and nonformal education in museums, community organizations and agencies, places of worship and other organizations. In addition Lifelong Learning in Public Libraries describes basic steps that librarians can execute in order to get started. On the other hand Creating and Promoting Lifelong Learning in Public Libraries focuses much more on how public librarians can specifically plan and implement their instruction with chapters on planning for instruction using teaching methodologies, teaching with and about technology and bringing ILI together with more traditional public library services, programming and activities such as reference and Readers Advisory services, bibliotherapy and cultural and literacy programming. Changes in

ILI standards and comparisons of ILI with basic reading media digital and cultural literacies are also described Both books together should act as basic manuals for public librarians who promote lifelong learning Creating and Promoting Lifelong Learning in Public Libraries also have helpful teaching hints for all librarians and other professionals who teach in a variety of settings
