The Theory and Practice of Learning Peter Jarvis,John Holford,Colin Griffin,2003-12-16 Learning is among the most basic of human activities The study of learning and research into learning is becoming a central part of educational studies This is a comprehensive introduction to contemporary theories and modern practices of learning Updated and expanded this second edition should be of interest to teachers facilitators human resource developers and students of education The contents cover lifelong learning the social background to learning cognitivist theory types of learning learning using ICT and philosophical reflections on learning Teacher Education for Languages for Specific Purposes Ron Howard,Gillian Brown,1997 This work summarizes and synthesizes the substantial crime prevention literature to provide an approachable and comprehensive text for students It sets out a critical analysis in the context of the politics of criminal justice policy

Distance Learning Technology, Current Instruction, and the Future of Education: Applications of Today, Practices of Tomorrow Song, Holim,2009-12-31 Distance Learning Technology Current Instruction and the Future of Education Applications of Today Practices of Tomorrow provides present and prospective directions of online education from various research fields reporting on discussions from students faculty members researchers and practitioners Alternative Approaches to Education Fiona Carnie,2017-05-12 Alternative Approaches to Education provides parents and teachers with information and guidance on different education options in the UK and further afield This new and expanded edition including additional chapters and up to date contact details explains the values philosophies and methods of a range of alternative approaches available outside and within the state system as well as if you re doing it yourself Illustrated throughout with the first hand experiences of children teachers and parents it provides lists of useful contacts sources of further information and answers to common questions Together with brand new chapters on recent research and contemporary debates and on Free Schools it covers Small alternative schools Steiner Waldorf education Democratic schools Alternatives in the state system Parents as change agents Setting up a Small School or Learning Centre Home based education Flexible schooling Exploring why alternative approaches to education are needed this accessible and informative book challenges the dominant educational orthodoxies by putting children first It will be of interest to teachers looking to build on their knowledge of different educational approaches in order to find new ways of working It is also an ideal introduction for parents deciding how best to educate their children Implementing the Primary Curriculum Kate Ashcroft,David Palacio,2003-10-04 Giving an overview of the whole of the curriculum this book specifically identifies key features of the required and optional curriculum The editors give practical examples for implementing new requirements into the teacher s daily workload Handbook of Distance Education Michael Grahame Moore,William C. Diehl,2018-12-07 The Handbook of Distance Education 4th Edition is a comprehensive compendium of research in the field of distance education The volume is divided into four sections covering the historical and theoretical foundations of distance education attributes of teaching and learning using technology management and administration and different audiences and providers Throughout leading scholars address future research needs and directions based on current research established practices and recent changes to implementation pedagogy and policy The University of Oxford L. W. B. Brockliss, 2016-04-15 This fresh and readable account gives a complete history of the University of Oxford from its beginnings in the eleventh century to the present day Written by one of the leading authorities on the history of universities internationally it traces Oxford's improbable rise from provincial backwater to one of the world's leading centres of research and teaching Laurence Brockliss sees Oxford's history as one of discontinuity as much as continuity describing it in four distinct parts First he explores Oxford as The Catholic University in the centuries before the Reformation when it was principally a clerical studium serving the needs of the Western church Then as The Anglican University in the years from 1534 to 1845 when Oxford was confessionally closed to other religions it trained the next generation of ministers of the Church of England and acted as a finishing school for the sons of the gentry and the well to do After 1845 The Imperial University saw the emergence over the following century of a new Oxford a university which was still elitist but now non-confessional became open to women as well as men took students from all round the Empire and was held together at least until 1914 by a novel concept of Christian service The final part The World University takes the story forward from 1945 to the present day and describes Oxford's development as a modern meritocratic and secular university with an ever growing commitment to high quality academic research Throughout the book Oxford's history is placed in the wider context of the history of higher education in the UK Europe and the world This helps to show how singular Oxford's evolution has been a story not of entitlement but of hard work difficult decisions and a creative use of limited resources and advantages to keep its destiny in its own hands Culture and Processes of Adult Learning Richard Edwards, Ann Hanson, Mary Thorpe, 2013-12-16 The authors provide a variety of perspectives on the conceptualisation of adult learning drawing on sociology psychology adult education and applied research into how adults experience learning Bringing together a number of major contributions to current debates about what learning during adulthood is for what motivates learning and how best it might be developed the authors address a range of significant issues What should be the context of learning programmed for adults and who should decide What are the implications in general and for women in particular of the current emphasis on learning for work at work How do adults learn and how is learning best facilitated How might learning be used to empower individuals communities and organisations
