ecosystem effectively harnessing its potential to enhance overall performance Moreover startups face the daunting challenge of scalability a pivotal factor in long term sustainability Yet achieving scalability often proves elusive due to complexities in resource management and ecosystem development Innovation and Resource Management Strategies for Startups Development is a comprehensive solution to the pressing issues of resource management ecosystem development and startup scalability This unique reference book delves deep into these critical aspects offering a wealth of ideas case studies and best practices alongside thorough theoretical analysis We recognize the undeniable influence of resource management and ecosystems on startup scalability and our objective is to enhance understanding in this domain By examining the powerful concepts that have shaped development policy and dissecting the role of resource management and ecosystem development in current discourse our book provides the necessary insights to identify inefficiencies and facilitate startup scalability It goes beyond mere theory fostering collaborative strategies among resources ecosystems and startups on a global scale ultimately contributing to social and economic development Routledge Handbook of Wetlands Alan Dixon,Ian Maddock,2025-08-29

This handbook provides a comprehensive and interdisciplinary overview of the place value and significance of wetlands presenting perspectives from across the environmental and social sciences Recent decades have witnessed unprecedented global interest in wetlands and the critical role they play in supporting biodiversity and ecosystem services such as carbon storage flood mitigation as well as their direct benefits for people and society that include the provision of food clean water and a range of cultural services This Routledge Handbook of Wetlands brings together a wide range of perspectives from social and environmental disciplines and voices from different wetland stakeholders from the global north and south to present an assessment of our current understanding of wetlands their environmental significance and their place in society and policy A recurring theme of the book is an exploration of how our current knowledge of wetlands that is often fragmented along traditional disciplinary lines can be brought together to enable a more integrated interdisciplinary and social ecological conceptualisation that aligns more closely with real world complex challenges and which offers new directions in wetland management for sustainable development This handbook will be essential reading for students and scholars of wetland management environmental science water resource management conservation ecology environmental humanities and sustainable development School Uniforms Rachel Shanks,Julie Ovington,Beth Cross,Ainsley

Carnarvon,2023-07-18 This edited volume brings together a new materialist approach to understanding the various legacies and controls being exercised through school uniforms Through examining school uniform policies the editors and their authors highlight the embodied choices that contribute to a socio materialist understanding of democracy and social justice Uniform policy plays a distinct role in setting the culture of compulsory school education and as such it constitutes a set of under theorised school practices This work thus brings together critical perspectives from education sociology cultural and postcolonial studies within an overarching analysis of how uniform imposes performances that have a formative effect on young people's identities and economic positionality

Best "New" African Poets 2016 Anthology Tendai

Mwanaka, Daniel Purificação, 2024-01-23 Best New African Poets 2016 Anthology has 251 pieces from 131 poets and artists in 7 languages English Portuguese French Afrikaans Shona Yoruba and Kiswahili from 24 African countries and Diasporas with South African and Angolan poets dominating the list We also have a healthy number of poets from Uganda Zimbabwe Kenya Moambique Ghana and Nigeria The nationalist sense is the one that most predominates with its pink blue and gray tints that are expressed in parallel with existentialist perspectives that in turn go hand in hand with love desire hankering joy sensuality that transports us to epic lyrical utopian contexts without being lost in fantasy they are artistic lines sometimes with traditional and sometimes more innovative touches However in contrast and to a lesser extent almost as if there were resistant and with restraint we also find desolation pain negation that can be so sweet or so bitter that it allows the imagination to stop in a lament or end in resignation

Decolonising Media and Communication Studies Education in Sub-Saharan Africa Selina Linda

Mudavanhu, Shepherd Mpofu, Kezia Batisai, 2023-10-27 The book provides insights on decolonising media and communication studies education from diverse African scholars at different stages of their careers These academics located on the continent and in the diaspora share an interest in decolonising higher education broadly and media and communication studies teaching and learning in particular Although many African countries gained flag independence from different European colonial powers between the 1950s and the 1970s this book argues that former colonies remain ensnared in a colonial power matrix Many African universities did not jettison ways of teaching and learning established during colonialism and even those journalism communication and media studies training programmes which were established after the attainment of flag independence did not place decolonial agendas at the front and centre when setting them up Starting with big picture thematic questions around decolonisation the book goes on to consider what the implications of change would be for students and instructors before reflecting on how far it is possible to decolonise curricula and syllabi and what this might look like in practice across a range of subject areas and country contexts Overall this book presents a nuanced picture of what a decolonised media and communication studies education could look like in sub Saharan Africa This book is essential for researchers in Africa in disciplines such as media and communication studies journalism film studies cultural studies and higher education studies More broadly the concepts and ideas on decolonising teaching and learning discussed in the book are relevant to instructors in any discipline who are interested in doing the decolonial work of contesting coloniality

Decolonising African Theatre Samuel Ravengai, 2024-04-11 Decolonisation can be pursued in different ways After many years of developing a critical language to engage coloniality the most urgent need in African theatre is to develop new theories and methods in our manufactories This Element uses Afroscenology as a theory to read and comment on African theatre The Element particularly focuses on the history of laboratories in which it was tested and emerged the historicization of rombic theatre and the crafting of a theory of the playtext which has been named theatric theory to distinguish it from the Aristotelian dramatic theory The second dimension of the theory is the performatic technique This Element also explain Afrosonic mime through examples drawn from the workshops conducted in training performers

Cyclones in Southern Africa Godwell Nhamo, David Chikodzi, 2021-09-28 Tropical cyclones in Southern Africa also known as hurricanes or typhoons in other regions of the world is a hot subject for academic research This focus has been magnified by the need to consider tropical cyclones in the context of other global development agendas that includes the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development and its inseparable 17 Sustainable Development Goals SDGs the Paris Agreement the Sendai Framework for Disaster Risk Reduction and Habitat III s New Urban Agenda The ambitious SDGs challenge global and community leaders to make sure development addresses the nexus among poverty inequality and employment creation as well as care for the earth and its natural resources and biodiversity The SDGs further present an agenda to eradicate hunger bring quality education and sustain water and sanitation The infrastructure development human settlements sustainable consumption and production climate change biodiversity and the ocean blue economy agendas are also pitched Lastly the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development encourages partnerships on delivering various programmes and projects at all spatial levels However as tropical cyclones continue to make multiple landfalls and ravage Southern Africa and other parts of the world the achievement of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development is threatened To this end this book addresses this gap by documenting the implications of tropical cyclones drawing examples and case studies from recent tropical cyclones such as cyclone Idai and cyclone Kenneth that resulted in catastrophic impacts in 2019 The book comes as part of a series with three volumes The other volumes include Cyclones in Southern Africa Vol 1 Interfacing the Catastrophic Impact of Cyclone Idai with SDGs in Zimbabwe and Cyclones in Southern Africa Vol 2 Foundational and Fundamental Topics Given the foregoing the book is suitable as a read for several professionals and disciplines such as tourism and hospitality studies economics sustainable development development studies environmental sciences arts geography life sciences politics planning and public health
