Biobased Polyols for Industrial Polymers Deny Kyriacos, 2020-03-17 The replacement of polyols synthesized from petrochemical by polyols originating from natural products, notably from vegetable oils and animal fats, has been the subject of research projects for a number of decades. Very recently, however, the polymers industry has intensified its efforts to include the green products such as biobased polyols in applications already available in the market. Examples of such applications include polyurethane foams, elastomers, and epoxides. This book describes the extraction of the natural constituents of several fruits and plants, as well as their chemical conversion to polyols. In addition to the chemistry involved in the process, particular emphasis is attributed to their applications. FCC Record United States. Federal Communications Commission, 2017
