

- Introduction - 2 min
 - Introduce myself to students, thank them for having me in their classroom, let them know how excited I am to be here today
- Framing - 4 min
 - Today, our objective is to make inferences about the main character in Sandra Cisneros's Eleven
 - Does anyone know what an inference is? Raise your hands
 - An inference is an educated guess. This means you take what you know, plus what you read, and create a conclusion. (write on the board)
 - Everyone say it with me on 3: what you know + what you read = inference
- Post Mortem - 35 minutes
 - We are going to start off by reading our text and completing an activity called Post Mortem in order to analyze our main character's thoughts, feelings and actions. When you see this diagram, what does it make you think of? (a crime scene) That's right. It's like an outline of a crime scene, but I promise our story is not spooky. We are going to use a diagram like this to map our character's thoughts, feelings and actions. Cold call: where do you think the thoughts will go? Where do you think the feelings will go? Where do you think the actions will go? 5 min
 - Now, we're going to split into groups. (make groups then cold call to CFU groups) I also need a volunteer to help me make our diagram. (make the diagram on craft paper) Now, group 1 come and sit by the head. Group 2, come and sit on the left side of the body. Group 3, come and sit by the hands and feet on the right side. 5 min
 - I'm going to do an example with you all first, so you can

The Unified Learning Model Duane F. Shell, David W. Brooks, Guy Trainin, Kathleen M. Wilson, Douglas F. Kauffman, Lynne M. Herr, 2009-12-01. This is a book about how humans learn. Our focus is on classroom learning, although the principles are as universal as the name of this book indicates. We are concerned with learning from pre-school to post-graduate. We are concerned with most business, industrial, and military training. We do not address how infants learn how to speak or walk, or how grown-ups improve their tennis swing. We do address all learning described by the word "thought" as well as anything we might try to teach or instruct in formal educational settings. In education, the words "theory" and "model" imply conjecture. In science, these same words imply something that is a testable explanation of phenomena, able to predict outcomes of experiments. This book presents a model of learning that the authors offer in the sense of scientists rather than educators. Conjecture implies that information is incomplete, and so it surely is with human learning. On the other hand, we assert that more than enough is known to sustain a scientific model of learning. This book is not a review of the literature. Instead, it is a synthesis. Scholars and many teachers likely have heard much, if not most or even all of the information we use to develop the unified learning model. What you have not read before is a model putting the information together in just this way. This is the first one.

Core Practices for Teaching Multilingual Students Megan Madigan Peercy, Johanna M. Tigert, Daisy E. Fredricks, 2023. Learn how to teach multilingual students effectively and equitably with this practical and accessible resource. The authors share real-world examples from the classrooms of ESOL teachers, unpack the teachers' thinking about their instruction, and identify six core practices that are foundational to teaching multilingual students: knowing your multilingual students, building a positive learning environment, integrating content and language instruction, supporting language and literacy development using assessment, and developing positive relationships and engaging in advocacy. The book focuses on how K-12 teachers can use these core practices in ways that humanize their instruction, positioning students as whole human beings, valuing the assets and resources they bring to the classroom, actively involving them in rigorous instruction that draws on their experiences and knowledge responding to each unique learning context and disrupting traditional power dynamics in education This text will help pre and in service teachers of multilingual students to center equity and justice in their practice and understand how to move humanizing mindsets into action Book Features Identifies and describes core practices for teaching multilingual students Offers opportunities to analyze teachers instruction using core practices Includes templates and additional resources that help teachers extend the use of core practices to their own planning Supports teacher educators in preparing teachers to move humanizing mindsets to humanizing practices Provides access to supplementary video clips depicting teachers as they engage in these practices and discuss their use Now We Get It! Janette K. Responsive K-12 Literacy Instruction Christy Howard, Mikkaka Overstreet, Anne Swenson Ticknor, 2024-08-22 Howard Overstreet and Ticknor build on the framework they established in their first book It s Not One More Thing They extend their practical how to strategies for enacting culturally responsive and affirming literacy instruction in K 12 classrooms specific to literacy assessment engaging texts used for literacy instruction and navigating and resisting barriers They build on their experiences and research of CRP to offer vignettes of literacy instruction that may be common in K 12 classrooms These examples are offered to situate how teachers may use research based and effective literacy practices while ignoring the identities and experiences of their students They then disrupt the vignettes using theories and concepts presented in the chapter to make visible how each practice could be reimaged to integrate more culturally responsive strategies Example lessons and activities are provided in each chapter that offer readers glimpses into CRP thinking and decision making

Guiding prompts are also included for readers to use the chapter topic and example lessons to consider ways to be more culturally responsive teachers for their students and in their local communities

Day by Day Ruth Ayres, Stacey Shubitz, 2023-10-10 Have you ever wanted your own personal writing coach to help improve your teaching of writing? How about two personal writing coaches? In Day by Day, Stacey Shubitz and Ruth Ayres, creators of the popular blog Two Writing Teachers, guide you through the trials and tribulations of a whole year of writing workshop. Day by Day is organized around six fundamental components of writing workshop: routines, mini lessons, choice, mentors, conferring, and assessment. Each component is broken down into ten day sections. Each section includes a detailed discussion, a challenge that teachers can apply immediately, and questions to help teachers assess the process to see what went right, what went wrong, and most importantly, why. Ruth and Stacey also provide daily encouragement, support, practical strategies, tips, advice, and everything you need to run an effective writing workshop that meets the needs of all the different writers in your classroom.

Across Cultures William Smalzer, Phyllis L. Lim, 1993

Turning the Page Rachel Slaughter, 2021-03-05 There is a dearth of multicultural literature in schools since few schools offer a curriculum that promotes multicultural education. However, by the year 2050, ethnic minority children will make up the majority of the United States public school classrooms. Multicultural literature is the building block of a multicultural education which reflects our nation's diversity and helps all students learn by providing help to bridge the cultural gap and promote racial awareness. Teachers often find it difficult to identify or find quality multicultural literature that adheres to the standard curriculum. Turning the Page: The Ultimate Guide for Teachers to Multicultural Literature helps educators find and evaluate multicultural books that are suitable for the classroom and align with the standard curriculum. The book includes a peer-reviewed metric that shows teachers how to substitute biased books with multicultural literature that endorses the same themes. Second, the book includes reviews, lesson plans, and curated book lists of multicultural books. Finally, the book offers a stepwise plan on how to create a task force of school stakeholders who can implement a comprehensive multicultural program. In 2018, The National Association for Multicultural Education released standards for multicultural education to encourage school staff to become culturally competent and linguistically diverse. Turning the Page: The Ultimate Guide for Teachers to Multicultural Literature moves educators in that direction.

Encounters With Archetypes Tamra Stambaugh, Emily Mofield, Eric Fecht, Kim Knauss, 2021-09-09 Encounters With Archetypes integrates the study of archetypes with the concept of encounters.
