Blackman, 2018-10-01 Caribbean Discourse in Inclusive Education Volume II Responding to Learner Diversity and Learner Difficulties shares selected critical reflections and recommendations on the way educational communities respond to student diversity and difficulties learning These contexts include the Caribbean the Diaspora and beyond Authors explore issues and strategies for realizing and sustaining the agenda of education for all within primarily but not limited to the Caribbean While the authors are aware of the ongoing debate between the terms education for all and inclusive education we use these terms interchangeably We hold the position that inclusive education is about commitment to removing barriers to optimum learning for all learners regardless of age ability ethnicity gender geography race religion sexual orientation or other differences Responding to Learner Diversity and Difficulties extend the discourse to include stakeholders committed to sharing their experiences and strategies for overcoming barriers to inclusive education This second volume presents research that examines how teachers can respond to students with disabilities and difficulties learning teach challenging curriculum content in mathematics and literacy build citizenship through student voice improve teacher practice via co teaching and critical reflection promote inclusive practice through leadership and advocacy It can be used as a core text or companion reader for students at the undergraduate and graduate levels lecturers practitioners researchers and policy makers The

Anthropology of Education Policy Angelina E. Castagno, Teresa McCarty, 2017-07-06 Advancing a rapidly growing field of social science inquiry the anthropology of policy this volume extends and solidifies this body of work focusing on education policy Its goal is to examine timely issues in education policy from a critical anthropological ethnographic and comparative perspective and through this to theorize new ways of understanding how policy does its work At the center is a commitment to an engaged anthropology of education policy that uses anthropological knowledge to imagine and foster more equitable and just forms of schooling The authors examine the ways in which education policy processes create reflect and contest regimes of knowledge and power sorting and stratifying people ideas and resources in particular ways In contrast to conventional analyses of policy as text based dictated linear and rational an anthropological perspective positions policy at the interface of top down bottom up and meso level processes and as de facto and de jure Demonstrating how education policy operates as a social cultural and deeply ideological process on the ground each chapter clearly delineates the implications of these understandings for educational access opportunity and equity Providing a single go to source on the disciplinary history theoretical framework methodology and empirical applications of the anthropology of education policy across a range of education topics policy debates and settings the book updates and expands on seminal works in the field carving out an important niche in anthropological studies of public policy
