Disturbing Spirits Beverly A. Tsacoyianis, 2021-06-15 This book investigates the psychological toll of conflict in the Middle East during the twentieth century including discussion of how spiritual and religious frameworks influence practice and theory The concept of mental health treatment in war torn Middle Eastern nations is painfully understudied In Disturbing Spirits Beverly A Tsacoyianis blends social cultural and medical history research methods with approaches in disability and trauma studies to demonstrate that the history of mental illness in Syria and Lebanon since the 1890s is embedded in disparate but not necessarily mutually exclusive ideas about legitimate healing Tsacoyianis examines the encounters between Western psychiatry and local practices and argues that the attempt to implement modern cosmopolitan biomedicine for the last 120 years has largely failed in part because of political instability and political traumas and in part because of narrow definitions of modern medicine that excluded spirituality and locally meaningful cultural practices

Analyzing hospital records ethnographic data oral history research historical fiction and journalistic nonfiction Tsacoyianis claims that psychiatrists presented mental health treatment to Syrians and Lebanese not only as a way to control or cure mental illness but also as a modernizing worldview to combat popular ideas about jinn based origins of mental illness and to encourage acceptance of psychiatry Treatment devoid of spiritual therapies ultimately delegitimized psychiatry among lower classes Tsacoyianis maintains that tensions between psychiatrists and vernacular healers developed as political transformations devastated collective and individual psyches and disrupted social order Scholars working on healing in the modern Middle East have largely studied either psychiatric or non biomedical healing but rarely their connections to each other or to politics In this groundbreaking work Tsacoyianis connects the discussion of global responsibility to scholarly debates about human suffering and the moral call to caregiving Disturbing Spirits will interest students and scholars of the history of medicine and public health Middle Eastern studies and postcolonial literature The Contemporary Novel and the City S. Khanna, 2015-12-04 This book examines the deeply divided terrain of the twentieth century city and its formative impact on narrative fiction It focuses on two major world authors at the two ends of the twentieth century who write systematically about the colonial and postcolonial cities they were born in James Joyce and Dublin and Salman Rushdie and Bombay The Novel Cure Ella Berthoud, Susan Elderkin, Indrajit Hazra, 2014-08-01 Whether you have a stubbed toe or a stubborn case of the blues within these pages you ll find a cure in the form of a novel or a combination of novels to help ease your pain You ll also find advice on how to tackle common reading ailments such as what to do when you feel overwhelmed by the number of books in the world or if you have a tendency to give up halfway through When read at the right moment in your life a novel can quite literally change it and The Novel Cure is a reminder of that power Written with authority passion and wit here is a fresh approach to finding new books to read and an enchanting way to revisit the books on your shelves

Upwelling Systems of the World Jochen Kämpf, Piers Chapman, 2016-08-29 Upwelling systems are special places in the oceans where nutrient enriched water is brought into the euphotic zone to fuel phytoplankton blooms that via marine food web interactions create the world s richest fish resources This book introduces the reader to the interdisciplinary science of upwelling and provides a comprehensive overview of the world's most productive marine ecosystems in the context of climate variability, climate change and human exploitation. This material presented is suitable for undergraduate and postgraduate study or just for anyone interested to learn about the creation of life in the oceans and how this is compromised by human activities.

Writing the Self in Illness Amala Poli, 2019-09-01. Writing the Self in Illness: Reading the Experiential Through the Medical Memoir is MUP's refreshing venture into the developing fields of Medical and Health Humanities with an aim to consider the necessity of the narrative knowledge as complementary to the contemporary notions of well-being, illness and healthcare. Is individual happiness contingent on health and well-being? How does one find happiness in the throes of illness? In the present-day scenario wherein medical practice is largely dominated by evidence-based understanding, diagnostic language and problem-solving methods, the discipline of Medical Humanities emerges with a reciprocal dialogue between Humanities, Social Sciences, Health and Medicine. The study of varied experiential narratives, literary works and unmediated accounts of patients and healthcare professionals is foregrounded in Medical Humanities to amplify knowledge and understanding about the complexity of encounters with illness and their transformational quality in a nuanced manner. Both thought-provoking and informative, this publication brings about the anecdotal form of personal narratives in the light of medical discourses along with the specific cultural context of the narrative. The present publication seeks to be an important reading for students and academics in the field of medical humanities, health professionals or medical practitioners as well as scholars aspiring to venture into this flourishing field.

Homeless K. Vaishali, 2023-03-08. After discovering she's lesbian and dyslexic at 20, Vaishali begins to untangle her anxieties around reading and writing. She comes out to her mother at 22 and leaves her Bombay home to make her own way. In a dingy, insect-ridden yet rent-free hostel room in Hyderabad with a door that doesn't quite close, she tries to make the best of the situation by writing a book about her experiences. As she writes, she finds the past has a way of catching up with her even as she explores her dyslexia, homosexuality and the clitoris, falling in love and recovering from a harrowing breakup, academic failure, loneliness and homophobia, living with sickness, anxiety, depression and her caste, gender and body. This is the story of Vaishali's relationship with her many truths and the truths of many young people in India      The Metaphysical City Rob Sullivan, 2019-01-15 The Metaphysical City examines the metaphorical existence of the city as an entity to further understand its significance on urban planning and geography. It encourages an open minded approach when studying cities so as to uncover broader connecting themes that may otherwise be missed. Case studies of New York, Paris, Cairo, Mumbai, Tokyo, and Los Angeles explore a metaphor specific to each city. This multidisciplinary analysis uses philosophical treatises, geographical analysis, and comparative literature to uncover how each city corresponds to the metaphor. As such, it allows the reader to understand the city from six differing points of view. This book would be beneficial to students and academics of urban planning, geography, and comparative literature, in particular those with an interest in a metaphysical examination of cities.
