Research Maria K. E. Lahman, 2021-08-31 This book addresses foundational areas of qualitative writing such as journal articles and dissertations aesthetic representations including poetry and autoethnography publishing and reflexivity in representation in one practical and engaging text based on real experiences Author Maria K E Lahman draws on her experiences as a qualitative research professor and writing instructor and as someone who has published widely in scholarly journals employing both traditional and more innovative forms of writing The first part of the book covers writing tips how to represent data how to write a qualitative thematic journal article how to write a qualitative dissertation and provides guidance on the publication process The second part encourages the qualitative researcher to move beyond traditional forms of writing and consider how qualitative research can be represented more aesthetically as poems autoethnographies and visually The book concludes with a chapter on reflexivity in research representations Throughout the author provides vivid examples from her own work and that of graduate students and colleagues Expert Consensus in Science Anthony Jorm, 2024-12-13 This Open Access book shows how expert consensus pervades all areas of science It explores in particular the role of consensus in establishing scientific truth in guiding professional practice and policy and agreeing on what are acceptable scientific methodologies For some scientific issues a consensus forms spontaneously among scientists working on a topic while for others where the issues are complex a formal deliberative consensus process is commonly needed Deliberative consensus processes are becoming more important as scientists increasingly deal with complex multi disciplinary issues of policy importance such as climate change due to human activity While deliberative consensus processes are commonly used they often lead to criticism from consensus skeptics The book argues that deliberative consensus processes in science can be improved and proposes a number of realistic ways forward ending with a discussion of whether communicating the scientific consensus on a topic is a good way to persuade the public Expanding Approaches to Thematic Analysis Jennifer R. Wolgemuth, Kelly W. Guyotte, Stephanie Anne Shelton, 2024-08-01 Expanding Approaches to Thematic Analysis Creative Engagements with Qualitative Data springboards readers into a world where generating themes from qualitative data is a creative experimental and wondrous process While no one ever said it had to be thematic analysis is invariably described as a step by step process that involves coding Yet qualitative data analysis is more than a technical procedure it invokes imagination and inspiration intuitional engagements that are as vital to the data analysis process as they are difficult to describe This edited book begins with two premises 1 there is more than one way to theme data and 2 qualitative researchers do not have to code to get to themes Each chapter introduces readers to a different approach to thematic analysis explores that approach s theoretical and disciplinary roots and illustrates how that approach can be used to generate themes Approaches include annotating memoing storying writing composing poems artmaking meditating and more expanding conceptualizations of what themes and thematic analysis can be The book also includes methodologies in action helpful examples of creative theming from doctoral students and early career scholars This book is as much a provocation for engaging thematic analysis beyond without in addition to coding as it is a resource for anyone interested in the rationale justification and examples for doing so As such it is a source of inspiration for any qualitative student researcher and scholar who wishes to expand their repertoire of approaches to thematic analysis Doing Public Ethnography Phillip Vannini,2018-07-18 Ethnography and qualitative research methodology in general have witnessed a staggering proliferation of styles and genres over the last three decades Modes and channels of communication have similarly expanded and diversified Now ethnographers have the opportunity to disseminate their work not only through traditional writing but also through aural visual performative hypertext and many diverse and creative multimodal documentation strategies Yet many ethnographers still feel insufficiently proficient with these new literacies and opportunities for knowledge mobilization and they therefore still limit themselves to traditional modes of communication in spite of their desire for innovation As university based community driven and politically mandated agendas for broader knowledge transfer keep increasing worldwide the demand for public scholarship continues to grow Arguing for the need to disseminate innovative ethnographic knowledge more widely and more effectively this book outlines practical strategies and tools for sharing ethnographic and qualitative research through widely accessible media such as magazines trade books blogs newspapers video radio and social media Drawing from practical experiences and hands on lessons Doing Public Ethnography provides social scientists across all disciplines with concrete tactics for mobilizing knowledge beyond the academic realm An Introduction to Text Mining Gabe Ignatow,Rada Mihalcea,2017-09-22 This is the ideal introduction for students seeking to collect and analyze textual data from online sources It covers the most critical issues that they must take into consideration at all stages of their research projects Support for the conceptual design stage of effective and resource-efficient offerings Sergio Brambila,2020-10-20 Human activities in the form of production and consumption have increased to an all time high In many cases this increase has resulted in environmental problems such as waste and pollution that in turn affect our health and way of living Societies have proposed different measures to address such environmental problems These range from different waste treatment technologies to alternative business models policy measures and lifecycle thinking in the design of products to mention but a few In this research the focus is on supporting early design activities of what is often called the conceptual design stage with the objective to provide effective and resource efficient offerings The early design activities considered here are planning analysis and evaluation Design researchers have largely supported these three activities with a variety of methods and tools However previous research has shown that design support coming from academia has had a low uptake in industry In this regard the aim of this research is to propose not only useful but also usable support for design practitioners during the conceptual design stage This research is carried out in the manufacturing sector in Sweden where selected companies expressed an interest in collaborating with academia to address more thoroughly effective and resource efficient offerings To better match company needs and research from academia this research took a pragmatic and cross disciplinary approach This research approach along with literature reviews semi structured interviews workshops and questionnaires shows different ways in which support can be made more useful and usable The main gap addressed here is that the knowledge and the related skills of the user of the support have not been sufficiently explored The results include requirements of the user of the support proposed methods and tools derived from the requirements identified and most importantly the knowledge and skills needed by the user of the support The main message of this research is that support could be expanded from methods and tools to include knowledge and skills needed by design practitioners the users of support The flow of support from academia to industry could also be reinforced in a two way flow through a pragmatic and cross disciplinary approach to first and foremost address design practitioners needs
