

My Personal Philosophy Of Education

As a student at Mercy College and an upcoming Teacher, what is important to me is fully gaining knowledge from my education that will prepare me to be the best possible teacher. Being a student can be very tough in many ways. Handling the work workload that is given to us, the number of essays we have to write, and the homework assignments we have to do can bring a lot of tension stress and painful headaches. One thing I learned from the college experience that is going to stick with me for life is that the workload can be very hard to handle, but after it's done and I gain knowledge, I will feel very blessed and very happy with the amount of work that I did. Honestly speaking, that is the best thing I have learned as a student. Doing all the work and gaining knowledge and using that in my everyday life is a privilege. Not all people get to go to school or get to go to college and learn subjects or gain knowledge from teachers or from some of the best professors that the school has to offer. Also, it's very important for us as students to build a connection with our professors and show them every student in the classroom wants to learn from them and wants to be as successful as they can. In my opinion, professors are some of the best people out there; if we really think about it, it is professors who are the reason each year young people like me and other college students from all over the world are graduating and going on to do the jobs that they love. Professors are the reason why people in the world are so successful and knowledgeable, and it honestly hurts me to say that they don't get enough recognition or not enough respect or all the love that they deserve. It is very important for professors to feel the connection with their students and treat them as daughters and sons that they want to see succeed. It is also very important for professors to make sure their students get the education that they need to be successful in life.

From Socrates to Summerhill and Beyond Ronald Swartz, 2016-06-01

In From Socrates to Summerhill and Beyond Towards a Philosophy of Education for Personal Responsibility Ronald Swartz offers an evolving development of fallible liberal democratic self governing educational philosophies. He suggests that educators can benefit from having dialogues about questions such as these:

- 1 Are there some authorities that can be consistently relied upon to tell school members what they should do and learn while they are in school?
- 2 How should the imagination of social theorists be both used and checked in the development and implementation of innovative educational reforms?
- 3 How can teachers in personal responsibility schools help their students learn?

These questions are representative of problems that Swartz raises in his book. Swartz identifies four educational programs as personal responsibility schools. These are Little Commonwealth, Homer Lane, Summerhill, A. S. Neill Orphans Home, Janusz Korczak, and Sudbury Valley School. Daniel Greenberg. Swartz then suggests that these learning environments create social institutions that are liberal democratic and self governing and therefore endorse the policy of personal responsibility. This policy states: All school members, students included, are fallible authorities who should be personally responsible for determining their own school activities and many policies that govern a school. Schools which incorporate this policy can interchangeably be referred to as personal responsibility, self governing, or Summerhill style schools. In providing an historical and philosophical understanding of Summerhill style schools, Swartz suggests that these educational alternatives have intellectual roots in the ideas associated with Socrates as portrayed in Plato's Apology. Specifically in personal responsibility schools, teachers are not viewed as authorities who attempt to transmit wisdom to their students. Rather, self governing schools follow the Socratic tradition which claims that teachers can be viewed as fallible authorities who attempt to engage students in dialogues about questions of interest to students. The interpretation of Plato's works used by Swartz can be found in Karl Popper's The Open Society and Its Enemies. Swartz has also been significantly influenced by the educational writings of Bertrand Russell and Paul Goodman. Goodman's Compulsory Miseducation makes it clear that schools which follow in the tradition of Summerhill compete with the educational programs that are an outgrowth of John Dewey's writings. In summary, Swartz's book aims to engage educators in dialogues that will lead to improved educational theories and practices.
