No Last Place to Rest

Dineo Skosana, 2025-02 No Last Place to Rest Coal Mining and Dispossession in South Africa is an exploration of the ongoing struggles faced by families whose lives have been upended by the relentless expansion of coal mining operations in the Mpumalanga and KwaZulu Natal provinces These regions burdened with the task of fulfilling the nation's energy needs and boosting the country's economy witness daily the harsh realities of land dispossession that extend far beyond the mere loss of property Dineo Skosana presents a compelling argument that dispossession remains a present day reality and crisis contradicting the notion that it is merely a relic of the past in the post apartheid landscape She challenges the narrow perspective that measures land loss in material and economic terms only By considering the impact of grave relocations a common occurrence in these mining dominated locales she demonstrates the profound spiritual anguish and dehumanisation communities endure as their lands are excavated and families lose their sacred connections with their ancestors Skosana argues that the act of dispossession of both the living and the dead from their land wounds the collective soul of a people

Akinola,2023-05-25 This edited volume reflects on some of the important discussions on the trends of governance conflict and security in Africa It explores some of the emerging concerns and offers a holistic understanding of the remote and immediate causes of the conflict and how the neo colonial African states have been structured in a manner that makes violent conflict inevitable The book thereby provides an overview of Africa s security challenges and proffers some sustainable policy options for curtailing lawlessness and armed conflict on the continent Literature is exhaustive about the nexus between governance peace and security however discourse on the impact of new conflict on governance has been scant Understanding these new trends has become a necessity and precondition for sustainable development as reflected in both the African Union AU Agenda 2063 and the United Nations UN Sustainable Development Goals SDGs Financial Inclusion and Digital Transformation Regulatory Practices in Selected SADC

Countries Howard Chitimira,Tapiwa Victor Warikandwa,2023-03-28 This book investigates the regulation and promotion of financial inclusion and provides a comparative analysis of the regulation promotion and enforcement of the relevant laws in the SADC in particular South Africa Namibia Botswana and Zimbabwe as well as the challenges of financial inclusion In turn it evaluates financial inclusion in the context of specific challenges faced by unbanked and underbanked customers who are easy targets for cyber criminals because they tend to have lower levels of digital literacy The book presents novel discussions that identify the challenges and flaws associated with the enforcement of financial inclusion laws and related measures intended to promote financial inclusion in the SADC region This is primarily done in order to reveal the current strengths and weaknesses of financial inclusion laws in relation to certain aspects of the companies securities and financial markets in the region For example there is no common financial inclusion instrument law that is effectively and uniformly applied throughout the SADC This has impeded the enforcement authorities efforts to effectively combat financial exclusion across the region The book is likely the most comprehensive study to date on the regulation and promotion of financial inclusion in the SADC region and fills a major gap in SADC and African legal jurisprudence As such it offers a valuable asset for policymakers attorneys bankers securities share holders and other market participants who deal with financial inclusion as well as undergraduate and graduate students interested in the topic

An Ambulance on Safari Melissa Diane Armstrong, 2020-10-22 During the apartheid era thousands of South African political activists militants and refugees fled arrest by crossing into neighbouring southern African countries Although they had escaped political oppression many required medical attention during their period of exile An Ambulance on Safari describes the efforts of the African National Congress ANC to deliver emergency healthcare to South African exiles and in the same stroke to establish political legitimacy and foster anti apartheid sentiment on an international stage Banned in South Africa from 1960 to 1990 the ANC continued its operations underground in anticipation of eventual political victory styling itself as a government in waiting In 1977 it created its own Health Department which it presented as an alternative medical service and the nucleus of a post apartheid healthcare system By publicizing its own democratic policies as well as the racist practices of healthcare delivery in South Africa the Health Department won international attention for its cause and provoked widespread condemnation of the apartheid state While the global campaign was unfolding successfully the department s provision of healthcare on the ground was intermittent as patients confronted a fledgling medical system experiencing various growing pains Still the legacy of the department would be long as many medical professionals who joined the post apartheid Department of Health in South Africa had been trained in exile during the liberation struggle With careful attention to both the international publicity campaign and on the ground medical efforts An Ambulance on Safari reveals the intricate and significant political role of the ANC s Health Department and its influence on the anti apartheid movement
