Essay 1 – Short Story Analysis

Write a two-to-three-page (500-800 words) critical analysis of ONE of the following short stories:

"Where Are You Going, Where Have You Been?" by Joyce Carol Oates

"Cathedral" by Raymond Carver

Critical Analysis To analyze your chosen short story, you must first pose a good critical question about it. Your critical question should ask how a particular literary element in the story works, how some aspect of plot, character, setting, or point of view enhances the story. A good critical question should be interesting, problematic, and significant; it should have more than one plausible answer, and it should offer readers new insights into the story. Your Short Story Journals will help you develop a strong critical question for your essay.

Thesis Your paper must have a thesis. The thesis is your answer to the critical question you pose; it is a central claim you intend to prove or demonstrate. A good thesis is neither so bizarre that you can't defend it ("In Adventures of Huckleberry Finn, Huck is actually Jim's imaginary friend, a subconscious projection of the runaway slave's mind.") nor so boring that no one could possibly disagree with it ("The first-person point of view in Adventures of Huckleberry Finn helps readers understand what Huck is thinking.").

Evidence Support every point you make in your essay with specific evidence from the text; with very few exceptions, that evidence will consist of direct quotations from the story and your analysis of them. Use your evidence to back up your thesis in two ways. First, and most importantly, you should closely read and analyze portions of the text to show how they support your thesis. Second, you should address likely reader objections to your thesis.

Structure The structure of a good college essay depends entirely on its thesis statement. A well-structured essay presents an explicit thesis early on that forecasts the essay's structure. Every element of the essay helps support and develop that thesis. The Introduction engages the reader's interest in the critical question the thesis addresses. Each paragraph in the Body of the essay develops and supports a single point that helps confirm the thesis. (Body paragraphs always begin with a one-sentence statement of the paragraph's main point: its Topic Sentence.) The Conclusion restates the essay's thesis and summarizes its argument. In a well-structured essay, a reader could read just your thesis and your topic sentences and have a perfectly comprehensible outline of your essay.
