The State-based and Regional Contagion Theories of Technology Diffusion Angsana Achakulwisut Techatassanasoontorn, 2006

Limitations of contract farming as a pro-poor strategy: The case of maize outgrower schemes in upper West Ghana Ragasa, Catherine, Lambrecht, Isabel, Kufoalor, Doreen S., 2017-03-30 The focus in this paper is on two relatively large maize based contract farming CF schemes with fixed input packages Masara and Akate and a number of smaller and more flexible CF schemes in a remote region in Ghana Upper West Results show that these schemes led to improved technology adoption and yield increases In addition a subset of maize farmers with high yield improvements due to CF participation had high gross margins However on average yields were not high enough to compensate for higher input requirements and cost of capital On average households harvest 29 30 bags 100 kg each or 2 9 3 0 metric tons of maize per hectare and the required repayment for fertilizer seed herbicide and materials provided under the average CF scheme is 21 25 bags 50 kg each per acre or 2 6 3 0 tons per hectare which leaves almost none for home consumption or for sale Despite higher yields the costs to produce 1 ton of maize under CF schemes remain high on average higher than on maize farms without CF schemes more than twice that of several countries in Africa and more than seven times higher than that of major maize exporting countries the United States Brazil and Argentina Sustainability of these CF schemes will depend on from the firms perspective minimizing the costs to run and monitor them and from the farmers perspective developing and promoting much improved varieties and technologies that may lead to a jump in yields and gross margins to compensate for the high cost of credit

Artificial Intelligence for Financial Markets Thomas Barrau,Raphael Douady,2022-05-31 This book introduces the novel artificial intelligence technique of polymodels and applies it to the prediction of stock returns The idea of polymodels is to describe a system by its sensitivities to an environment and to monitor it imitating what a natural brain does spontaneously In practice this involves running a collection of non linear univariate models This very powerful standalone technique has several advantages over traditional multivariate regressions With its easy to interpret results this method provides an ideal preliminary step towards the traditional neural network approach The first two chapters compare the technique with other regression alternatives and introduces an estimation method which regularizes a polynomial regression using cross validation The rest of the book applies these ideas to financial markets Certain equity return components are predicted using polymodels in very different ways and a genetic algorithm is described which combines these different predictions into a single portfolio aiming to optimize the portfolio returns net of transaction costs Addressed to investors at all levels of experience this book will also be of interest to both seasoned and non seasoned statisticians

Data for DoD Manpower Policy Analysis Jacob Alex Klerman,2009 To allow analyses of its personnel practices the Department of Defense maintains historical administrative data files and administers surveys of military personnel Military manpower analyses also make use of civilian cross sectional and longitudinal data Klerman provides an overview of these data sources and discusses how they can be analyzed with currently underutilized data matching strategies These data matching strategies involve matching DoD administrative data files to 1 civilian administrative data such as Social Security Administration earnings data 2 DoD survey data and 3 civilian survey data These strategies have the potential for large payoffs in terms of better analysis and therefore better policy for DoD Klerman also discusses the degree to which DoD should help fund a future National Longitudinal Study of Youth and whether DoD should initiate a new military panel survey Data for DoD Manpower Policy Analysis maintains that the research questions that these proposed surveys would help answer can instead be explored through data matching Moreover streamlining procedures for data matching that is making it easier for researchers to analyze the data DoD already has is likely to be much less expensive than engaging in major new data collection efforts Economic and Business
