The Architects Guide to Writing Bill Schmalz, The Images Publishing Group, 2014 There are a lot of good books available to help people write better. They include dictionaries usage guides and various types of writers manuals and professional writers ought to have many of those books on their bookshelves. But most architects and other design and construction professionals are not professional writers. Instead they are people who spend a large part of their professional lives writing. That's a big difference and that's where this book will help. The Architect's Guide to Writing has been written not by an English major but by Bill Schmalz an architect who knows the kinds of documents his fellow professionals routinely have to write and understands the kinds of technical mistakes they often make in their writing. This book is designed to meet the specific needs of design and construction professionals It s not going to waste their time with the things that most educated professionals know but it will help them with the things they don t know or are unsure of It s not a Chicago Manual sized encyclopaedic reference that includes everything any writer would ever need to know because architects don t need to know everything But what they do need to know and what they use every day in their professional lives has been assembled in this book Handbook of Technical Writing Gerald J. Alred, Charles T. Brusaw, Walter E. Oliu, 2006 Alphabetically organized and easy to use its nearly 400 entries provide guidance for the most common types of professional documents and correspondence including reports proposals manuals memos and white papers Abundant sample documents and visuals throughout the book demonstrate effective technical communication reflecting current practices for formatting documents and using e mail In addition advice on organizing researching writing and revising complements thorough treatment of grammar usage style and punctuation to provide comprehensive help with writing skills Handbook of Technical Writing, Ninth Edition Gerald J. Argument Writing, Teacher Guide, Grades 9-12 PCG Education, 2016-06-07 Argument Writing Paths to College and Career Jossey Bass and Public Consulting Group Inc PCG are proud to bring the Paths to College and Career English Language Arts ELA curriculum and professional development resources for grades 6 12 to educators across the country Originally developed for EngageNY and written with a focus on the shifts in instructional practice and student experiences the standards require Paths to College and Career includes daily lesson plans guiding questions recommended texts scaffolding strategies and other classroom resources The Paths Writing Units Argument Writing Informative Writing and Narrative Writing complement the full instructional program and can also be used independently providing in depth writing instruction to support all students in grades 9 12 in meeting grade level standards To emphasize the relationship between reading and writing each Writing Unit includes accessible model texts that exemplify key elements of each text type and source texts that provide a topic for the unit writing assignment Individual lessons guide students through the writing process providing instruction on grammar and conventions and highlighting collaboration and reflection as key elements of effective writing. Students' final essays are assessed using a checklist developed by the class over the course of the unit. The organization and distinctive content of the model and source texts in each unit afford teachers the flexibility to implement each unit independently of the others and at any point during the curriculum. For example, a unit may be implemented to assess students' writing prior to implementation of the standard curriculum to scaffold writing instruction leading into a writing assessment or to support struggling writers by addressing gaps in skills as demonstrated in previous assessments. The Paths Writing Units provide teachers with invaluable opportunities to engage students as active participants in their own learning at every stage of the writing process and to customize instruction to meet the varying needs of all students.
