

Development of a New Curriculum for Business

The curriculum for the new business program was developed by a committee of faculty members and administrators. The committee was charged with the task of creating a curriculum that would be relevant to the needs of the business community and that would provide students with a solid foundation in business fundamentals. The committee's work was guided by the following principles:

- 1. The curriculum should be based on the needs of the business community.
- 2. The curriculum should provide students with a solid foundation in business fundamentals.
- 3. The curriculum should be flexible enough to allow for changes in the business environment.
- 4. The curriculum should be challenging enough to prepare students for the rigors of the business world.
- 5. The curriculum should be designed to be delivered in a variety of formats, including traditional classroom instruction, self-paced learning, and online instruction.

The committee's work resulted in the development of a new curriculum for the business program. The curriculum is designed to be delivered in a variety of formats, including traditional classroom instruction, self-paced learning, and online instruction. The curriculum is designed to be relevant to the needs of the business community and to provide students with a solid foundation in business fundamentals. The curriculum is also designed to be flexible enough to allow for changes in the business environment and to be challenging enough to prepare students for the rigors of the business world.
