transcends the ages Nomi Eve's lavishly imagined account begins in Palestine in 1837 with the tale of the irrepressible family matriarch Esther who was lured by the smell of baking bread into an affair with the local baker Esther passes on her passionate nature to her son Eliezer whose love for the forbidden Golda threatened to tear the family apart And to her granddaughter Avra the thief a tiny wisp of a girl who thumbed her nose at her elders by swiping precious stones from the local bazaar and grew to marry a man she met at the scene of a crime At once epic and intimate The Family Orchard is a rich historical tapestry of passion and tradition from a storyteller of beguiling power Family of Blood Mark Smith, Begrudgingly accepting his position as an heir to the powerful Trieste family Martin discovers that a terrorist group is trying to create weapons of mass destruction by turning humans into unstoppable raging and brutal vampires Saving the life of young Adara from this horror Martin finds himself in unfamiliar territory as he falls for the new young vampire The extraordinary nature of Adara's turning into a vampire plus discovering missing nuclear material pushes Martin to the very limits of his skill and endurance to save his family and the world The Novel Newspaper, 1840 Transformative Communication Studies Omar Swartz, 2008-01-01 This interdisciplinary collection of essays charts intersections between communication cultural studies and a variety of emergent emancipatory and liberatory discourses Every essay attempts in one way or another to speak to the following questions What would a theory of liberation look like that is premised on a communication view of the world How would such a view expand and even redefine our understanding of liberation Finally how would such a view enlarge our understanding of what is collectively communally and organizationally possible In other words the chapters articulate what can be loosely considered a humanist theory of communication and praxis The goal is to move beyond discourses of liberation that are grounded in essentialist assumptions and to move the conversation toward an engaged criticism on cultural and social levels that facilitates and encourages progressive action This edited collection thus has as its goal a theory of human liberation grounded in communication as a resource for social and spiritual transformation The chapters comprise a mix of conceptual and applied studies that interrogate the communicative practices that naturalize our hierarchical world reifying and stultifying our moral and political imaginations As an antidote to this problem the contributors consider the importance of uncertainty and contingency in the development of human potential Rather than fearing uncertainty and contingency and allowing that fear to control us contributors argue that we should find within these conditions the source of our humanity and the strength to question and resist unjust social reifications When we do this we will rediscover the power of communication and regain an agency and control over our lives We then can start the difficult but humanizing process of constructing the world anew Case study exemplars of this construction thus are showcased Disability and Peripherality Pankaj Jyoti Gogoi, Debajyoti Biswas, 2025-02-26 This book presents the intersectionality between ethnicity and disability in the peripheral region of Northeast India It familiarises the readers with micro issues local cultural imagination and social navigation of disability It explores the region's social imaginary associated
