specialist compares copyright laws on selected social media platforms namely Facebook Pinterest YouTube Twitter and Wikipedia with other regulatory factors such as the terms of service and the technological features of each platform This comparison enables her to explore how each platform affects the role copyright laws play in securing compliance from their users Through a case study detailing the content generative activities undertaken by a hypothetical user named Jane Doe as well as drawing from empirical studies the book argues that in spite of copyright s purported regulation of certain behaviours users are nudged by the social media platforms themselves to behave in ways that may be inconsistent with copyright laws

Praise for Regulating Content on Social Media This book makes an important contribution to the field of social media and copyright It tackles the real issue of how social media is designed to encourage users to engage in generative practices in a sense effectively seducing users into practices that involve misuse or infringement of copyright whilst simultaneously normalising such practices Melissa de Zwart Dean of Law Adelaide Law School Australia This timely and accessible book examines the regulation of content generative activities across five popular social media platforms Facebook Pinterest YouTube Twitter and Wikipedia Its in depth critical and comparative analysis of the platforms growing efforts to align terms of service and technological features with copyright law should be of great interest to anyone studying the interplay of law and new media Peter K Yu Director of the Center for Law and Intellectual Property Texas A M University

The Discourse of YouTube Phil Benson, 2016-10-26 The Discourse of YouTube explores the cutting edge of contemporary multimodal discourse through an in depth analysis of structures processes and content in YouTube discourse YouTube is often seen as no more than a place to watch videos but this book argues that YouTube and YouTube pages can also be read and analysed as complex multi authored multimodal texts emerging dynamically from processes of textually mediated social interaction The objective of the book is to show how multimodal discourse analysis tools can help us to understand the structures and processes involved in the production of YouTube texts Philip Benson develops a framework for the analysis of multimodality in the structure of YouTube pages and of the multimodal interactions from which their content emerges A second and equally important objective is to show how the globalization of YouTube is central to much of its discourse The book identifies translingual practice as a key element in the global discourse of YouTube and discusses its roles in the negotiation of identities and intercultural learning in videos and comments Focusing on YouTube as a key example of new digital media The Discourse of YouTube makes a substantial contribution to conversations about new ways of producing multimodal text in a digital world

Protecting Children Online? Tijana Milosevic, 2018-02-02. A critical examination of efforts by social media companies including Facebook, Twitter, Snapchat, and Instagram to rein in cyberbullying by young users. High-profile cyberbullying cases often trigger exaggerated public concern about children's use of social media. Large companies like Facebook respond by pointing to their existing anti-bullying mechanisms or coordinate with nongovernmental organizations to organize anti-cyberbullying efforts. Do these attempts at self-regulation work? In this book, Tijana Milosevic examines the effectiveness of efforts by social media companies including Facebook, Twitter, YouTube, Snapchat, and Instagram to rein in cyberbullying by young users. Milosevic analyzes the anti-bullying policies of fourteen major social media companies as recorded in companies' corporate documents, draws on interviews with company representatives and e-safety experts, and details the roles of nongovernmental organizations examining their ability to provide critical independent advice. She draws attention to lack of transparency in how companies handle bullying cases, emphasizing the need for a continuous independent evaluation of effectiveness of companies' mechanisms, especially from children's perspective. Milosevic argues that cyberbullying should be viewed in the context of children's rights and as part of the larger social problem of the culture of humiliation. Milosevic looks into five digital bullying cases related to suicides, examining the pressures on the social media companies involved, the nature of the public discussion and subsequent government regulation that did not necessarily address the problem in a way that benefits children She emphasizes the need not only for protection but also for participation and empowerment for finding a way to protect the vulnerable while ensuring the child's right to participate in digital spaces
